EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

i. This combined resettlement and tribal development plan (CRTDP) identifies and records the social, economic, and cultural aspects of the proposed Lower Kopili Hydroelectric Project (LKHEP) area and its affected communities, and potential social impacts of LKHEP on them. Then it presents a development plan to avoid or at least to minimize potential adverse social impacts of LKHEP on them and to ensure that they share its benefits. The executive agency of CRTDP is Assam Power Generation Corporation Ltd (APGCL). ADB partially funds the construction of the project, and APGCL pays for land acquisition, compensation, relocation, economic rehabilitation of the project-affected persons (APs) and local area development. This CRTDP is currently at draft stage which needs further update and finalization based on the final verifications of list of affected households, ownership and losses.

ii. This document is an updated version of the CRDTP of 2018 based on socioeconomic and census survey carried out by the deployed NGO and disbursement of compensation carried out by APGCL along with Autonomous Council Authorities. This document will be further updated once socioeconomic and census survey is completed for Karbi Anglong. The sources of the draft CRTDP are field observations, results of the land surveys by APGCL, results of socioeconomic surveys conducted in the Project area, findings of public consultations, careful examination of Indian and Assam regulatory framework for land acquisition, compensation payment, resettlement and rehabilitation, and the Project information that are available in Detailed Project Report (DPR) and related documents. Land surveys were conducted by the APGCL covering entire 1,217 affected households based on the DPR which includes the losses in terms of land, structures etc. There exists socioeconomic homogeneity among autonomous district council (ADC) communities, their equal tribal status to each other, and there is dependency on agriculture and cultivation on ADC's land for livelihood. The household survey was done in all the 16 villages which will be affected. The 18 physically displaced households were selected from among the affected households.

iii. The draft CRTDP is being updated based on further socioeconomic surveys prior to the implementation. APGCL has already engaged a Project Management Consultant (PMC) to assist the implementation and monitoring of the project. Additionally, an implementing Non-Government Organization (NGO) is engaged for the implementation of CRTDP. APGCL through its PMC and NGO will update the CRTDP with further socioeconomic surveys of the affected households. However, the general policy principle and the entitlement will remain same and will not be downgraded.

Legal Framework

iv. The Schedule VI of the Constitution of India established several ADCs in the northeast India. An ADC is an administrative entity with a structure to safeguard tribal peoples' rights and interests and their traditional ways of living. It also provides a political framework, guaranteed by the Constitution of India, for tribal peoples to self-govern their affairs. The LKHEP lies in the Dima Hasao and the Karbi Anglong Autonomous Districts of the Assam State in India. The lands that fall within the jurisdiction of the two districts are 'scheduled' or listed tribal land and those who belong to the listed tribes are 'scheduled tribes. A member of a scheduled tribe can obtain a piece of land on lease with the permission of gaon bura (village headman) from an ADC for residence and livelihood. The ADC renews the leasehold periodically on the recommendation of the gaon bura. When the State Government acquires such leaseholds for a public purpose, the leaseholders are entitled to land compensation, resettlement assistance, and livelihood restoration and improvement.

v. The key legislation applicable to the Project is the Right to Fair Compensation and Transparency in Land Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Resettlement (RFCTLARR) Act, 2013 (The Act of 2013). This Act of 2013 with the land acquisition and compensation procedures of Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs provide a comprehensive legal framework to prepare and implement resettlement plans and tribal development plans. The Project follows the Act of 2013 for land acquisition as well as livelihood restoration and rehabilitation. In terms of land value estimation, no land transaction or revenue records are available apart from the data on leased land parcels to tribal person. Without any fair market rate available, it was estimated as per the rate provided and provided by the Autonomous District Council, and the rate was approved by the Public Works Department (PWD) of Assam for civil structures and buildings. They match most of the involuntary resettlement and indigenous peoples' safeguard policy requirements of ADB.

Project Impacts

vi. The Project affects 16 villages under the jurisdiction of two autonomous districts (Dima Hasao and Kabi Anglong) with 1,217 tribal households. It physically displaces 18 households. The Project will acquire 1,577 hectares of land of which about two-thirds are leaseholds and the remaining of land are state forests. The Project is in a 'non-cadastral' area, that is, no land or revenue records are available other than the data on the leased land parcels to tribal persons. All affected lands in the two ADC are as are classified as either patta (registered) land or as non-patta land or 'village commons'. Farmers cultivate paddy under rain-fed conditions on some of the patta land which have been obtained on a long-term lease (5 years or more). On non-patta land which have been obtained on short-term lease (one year) villagers practice jhum (slash-and-burn) cultivation. The leaseholds are also classified by the land use type such as paddy land, dry land, jhum land (slash and burn) land, and homesteads. In Karbi Anglong Autonomous District, some land is in the category of 'plantations' where cash crops such as bananas are cultivated.

Impacts Mitigation

vii. There are various mitigation measures adopted for the Project in terms of entitlements at both household level and community level. The entitlement matrix of the CRTDP summarizes the entitlements of the affected persons, households, and communities. It aims not only to compensate land losses and restore livelihoods and sources of income of the affected households but also to improve them. The key mitigation measures proposed at household levels are cash compensation for land and crops acquired; resettlement of physically displaced households; household income restoration and improvement; infrastructure and other amenities at the resettlement site. The mitigation measure proposed at community level is the local area development programs.

Consultation, Participation, and BCS

viii. APGCL, ADCs, and GoA in consultation with the APs identified the land area to be acquired for the Project, and calculated land compensation and premium rates. In acquiring land from an ADC for a public purpose, the GoA uses a two-tier consent-seeking consultation program. The first-tier is obtaining the project affected ADC's consent to transfer its tribal land to a non-tribal purpose, for example, to build a hydroelectric project. The second tier is the agreement among the affected households, APGCL, ADC, and GOA on the rates of compensation, resettlement assistance and income restoration and improvement programs.

ix. During the consultations, consultants discussed the applicability of the Act of 2013 with project-affected peoples' associations (PAPA) members and the need for their broad community support to the project. They stated that from the initial phase of land acquisition, that is, when the land was identified for the Project, their consent, as indicated in all oral and written submissions, was given for the construction of the Project. They also indicated to the Project authorities that they expect the Project to pay fair compensation directly to them, and provide employment to the APs at project sites, and to invest in local area development. Records of the consultations and discussions among GOA, ADCs, APGCL, and PAPA from 2008 indicate that there has been no coercion or intimidation or bribery or inducement to engage the APs in consent-seeking consultation meetings.

Information Dissemination

x. APGCL has already disseminated resettlement information among the APs through public meetings, calling AP representatives to Guwahati for Project meetings and to meet GoA and ADC officials. The APGCL held several meetings in the project area with the support of PAPA and gaon buras of the villages to create awareness about the Project among the potential APs. It will disseminate more resettlement and income restoration and improvement information among all APs through brochures, leaflets, and booklets written in local languages. For non-literate people, other communication methods such as small group discussions and posters will be used to disseminate Project and resettlement information. The summary draft CRDP has been translated in to Assamese language and has been disseminated to the APs in the form of leaflet in April, 2018 during consultations. The draft CRTDP will be made available at local government offices, the Project office, and key locations in the Project site soon after the Project appraisal is completed. In addition, a summary the CRTDP, especially the entitlement matrix and resettlement budget information will be made available in local languages to all APs, and distributed in village communities through gaon buras. The draft CRTDP will be disclosed on the websites of the two ADCs, APGCL, GOA, and ADB before the project appraisal. The revised and final CRTDP will also be disclosed on the same websites. Information dissemination and consultations will continue throughout Project preparation, implementation, and monitoring phases.

Institutional Arrangements

xi. The Department of Energy of GOA coordinates all Project activities at the state-level. APGCL is the Executive Agency (EA) of the Project and the Implementing Agency (IA). Project Management Unit (PMU) was already established by APGCL and the PMU has a designated dedicated Social and Environmental Safeguards Cell (SESC) on full time basis. It comprises a qualified environment specialist and a qualified social safeguard specialist. The SESC will report to the Project Director. It facilitates land acquisition and compensation, relocation and resettlement, distribution of resettlement assistance, and supervises income restoration and rehabilitation program of the project. The SESC is also responsible for internal monitoring of resettlement activities, including land acquisition, compensation payment, establishment and operation of GRM, and income restoration and improvement programs. The SESC will work on full time basis during the entire implementation period.

xii. A PMC was already recruited to assist APGCL in implementing the project. Additionally, APGCL will hire an implementing NGO to assist SESC in safeguard implementation, especially the implementation of livelihood restoration and improvement programs. The SESC and the NGO will (a) update the socioeconomic surveys for all the APs based on the final design and final list of APs, and will update the draft CRTDP; (b) design an environmental and social management system for the implementation of the CRTDP; (c) improve the monitoring framework with accurate monitoring indicators for safeguard performance monitoring; (d) update socioeconomic baseline information; (e) undertake field studies, if required, to fill in gaps in socioeconomic databases; and (f) assist the establishment of the grievance redress mechanism and its operations.

Grievance Redress Mechanism

xiii. APGCL will formally establish a transparent and time bound grievance redress mechanism (GRM) at the project level to receive and resolve the APs' grievances and complaints, if any, on the delivery of their entitlements, in particular, and project impacts on them, in general. The GRM will be established prior to start-up of CRTDP implementation. Before the activities commence, the APGCL will conduct a publicity program to introduce GRM, SESC, and the NGO.

Relocation

xiv. The APGCL will provide physically displaced households with adequate and appropriate replacement land, housing, and other amenities in addition to cash land compensation for the lost land and other assets. An affected household will not be physically displaced before providing a permanent dwelling house at the resettlement site. If there is a delay in providing a house, APGCL will rent a house for the displaced household with water supply, sanitation, and other basic facilities. The additional cost of such interim accommodation will be fully borne by APGCL. Each affected household has opted to receive cash compensation for the land they lost to the project. Income restoration and improvement will follow the requirements listed in the Second Schedule of the Act of 2013 which broadly meet the ADB's social safeguard policy standards.

Income Restoration and Improvement

xv. The skill training program, priority employment for the APs at Project sites, allocation of small-scale contracts and supplies to PAPA, linkages with regional employment generation programs will help the APs in restoring and improving their livelihoods. APGCL will implement a local area development program in consultation with national level and State level departments and agencies. The following aspects are covered under the local area development plan: upgrade of the infrastructure of five schools; construction of community toilets as part of the 'Swatch Bharat Abhiyan' and for it APGCL will finance 10-seater community toilets in 20 villages; and upgrade of health care facilities in the project area. In the long-term, the two ADCs will prepare a strategy to overcome the propensity among tribal households towards jhum cultivation and to encourage them to move towards sedentary agricultural practices which would uplift their income levels and social status. This will be done by developing strategy in consultation with the respective PAPA and community leaders and that necessary resources will be provided by the State government in due course. This will entail land reforms and agricultural development support to such households. Such costs are not part of the implementation of CRTDP.

Monitoring Framework

xvi. CRTDP provides a monitoring framework for social safeguard implementation. The framework includes internal and external monitoring, and key monitoring indicators. The SESC will do internal monitoring of social safeguard application and progress under the supervision of PMU and with the help of the NGO. The external monitoring will be done by hired monitoring specialists. The PMU will submit semi-annual internal safeguard monitoring reports and semi-annual external safeguard monitoring reports to ADB for review. The safeguard monitoring reports will be posted on EA and ADB websites.

Cost of Safeguard Implementation

xvii. APGCL ensures that sufficient funds are available at the beginning of the Project to meet the listed cost items of CRTDP. All land acquisition, resettlement, administrative, and monitoring costs, and NGO and consultants' fees, and income and livelihood restoration and improvement costs are integral components of the project costs and will be borne by APGCL. It, in consultation with the APs, GOA, and the two ADCs, will finalize and update the costs of land acquisition, resettlement, and rehabilitation, based on the completed detailed design surveys of the project. In revising and updating CRTDP, APGCL will not lower any of the entitlements listed in the entitlement matrix. The land and other affected property compensation costs are already allocated in APGCL's annual budget for 2016/2017. APGCL will pay cash compensation packages to the APs direct in full before any construction activity of the Project commences, and before any physical displacement of households. Resettlement assistance programs will start before Project construction works start and will continue during the Project implementation phase. APGCL will provide a confirmed time line for the construction of the resettlement site and its infrastructure facilities once the project is approved. APGCL will allocate sufficient funds and obtain timely approvals from relevant authorities to avoid delays, especially in constructing the resettlement site for the physically displaced households. The total estimated cost of implementing the CRTDP is ₹2,293.90 million.

1. INTRODUCTION

1 Background

1. The purpose of this Combined Resettlement and Tribal Development Plan (CRTDP) is to record social, economic, and cultural aspects of the proposed Lower Kopili Hydro Electric Project (LKHEP) area and its affected communities, and to present a comprehensive mitigation plan to address adverse social impacts of the project on them. A key part of the plan is the strategy that enables the Affected Persons (APs) to benefit from the Project; and to restore and improve their livelihoods and sources of income. It outlines the institutional arrangements for delivering entitlements and project benefits to the APs and other stakeholders, a mechanism for resolving grievances and complaints, and a monitoring framework to follow and report the progress of the implementation of CRTDP.

2. The executing agency (EA) of LKHEP is Assam Power Generation Corporation Ltd (APGCL). It pays for land acquisition and compensation; relocation of the APs, and their income restoration and improvement. This CRTDP is currently draft version which needs further update and finalization based on the final verifications of list of affected households, ownership and losses. APGCL through its PMU, PMC and implementing NGO will update the draft CRTDP.

1.1 The Project

3. The concept of the Kopili River Valley Development goes back to the 1980s. Various agencies including the Assam State Electrical Board (ASEB), the North Eastern Electric Power Corporation Limited (NEEPCO), and APGCL have contributed to the development of the project plan. ASEB conducted an initial investigation on the suitability of constructing a hydroelectric project on the Lower Kopili River, and prepared a preliminary project plan. In 1996, the Government of Assam (GoA) handed over the Project development to the NEEPCO. It prepared a detailed project report (DPR) revising the previous reports, and obtained clearances from various directorates of the Central Electricity Authority (CEA) and the Central Water Commission (CWC) for several project components. The GoA in 2006 appointed APGCL to finalize the Project plan and to implement it.

4. The Kopili River is a south bank tributary of the Brahmaputra River. It originates in the Borail Hill range of Meghalaya and drains an area of about 16,421 sq km. Its basin is bound by the Jainta Hills in the West and the South Cachar and Mikir Hills in the East. The catchment of the Kopili River lies on the leeward side of the Borail, Khasi, and Jayantia Hill range of the Meghalaya State. The river basin receives a good amount of rain fall which keeps it as a perennial river. The river basin comprises denuded hills, low mounds, and narrow valleys that generally slop towards northeast. The highest elevation is 356 m just beyond the southern boundary of the proposed reservoir of LKHEP. Slopes are gentle and are mostly covered with bushes and trees. The soil is cohesive and sporadic rock exposures occur on the banks of the Kopili River and its nallahs (natural canals).

5. LKHEP is one of the proposed multi-stage development programs in the Kopili River Valley. The River already has two hydroelectric power projects upstream of the proposed LKHEP site: Kandong 75 MW HEP served by the Khandong Reservoir and Kopili 200 MW HEP served by the Umrong Reservoir. The proposed LKHEP will generate 110 MW power. It is designed as a storage reservoir scheme. The Project is located in the Karbi Anglong and Dima Hasao Autonomous Districts.

6. The water sources of the proposed Lower Kopili Hydroelectric Project are (a) tail race releases from the Kopili Power station at Umrong, (b) in flow from intermediate catchment between Khangdon and Longku dam sites; and (c) the spill from the Khangdon and Umrong Reservoirs. However, the operation of the proposed LKHEP will be independent of the operations of the Khangdon and Kopili power stations.

7. The dam of LKHEP will be constructed in the vicinity of the Longku Village in Karbi Anglong Autonomous District. The dam will form a reservoir with a gross storage of 106.29 MCM. The concrete gravity dam will be 70.13 meter (m) tall and 345.05 m long. The full water supply level (FSL) of the reservoir will be 229.60 m and the minimum draw down level will be 226.00 m. The other project infrastructure components are the intake structure 35 m upstream of the Lower Kopili dam; headrace tunnel of 7.25 m diameter and 3,603 m long, surge shaft with a diameter 25 m and at a height of 82.90 m; pressure shaft of 5.2 m internal diameter and concrete backfill for a length of 703 m; valve house, a surface powerhouse; tail race channel of 52 m length and of 26.3 m width; auxiliary powerhouse at the dam-toe embedded into the body of dam.

1.2 Physical Environment of the Project Area

9. About 95 percent of the catchment area of the Kopili River is State forests, and 05 percent are cultivated land and homesteads (DPR 2013). The Project area is located in a subtropical region and is covered with vegetation. The region experiences 4 seasons- winter (November to March), pre-monsoons (April to May), south-west monsoons (end of May to September), and post monsoons (October to November).

10. The proposed LKHEP will be located in the Dima Hasao² and the Karbi Anglong Autonomous Districts³ in the Assam State of India. The two autonomous districts are the hilliest, remotest, and most undulated districts in Assam. Although wildlife is occasionally observed in the Project area, no endangered species of flora and fauna are reported. No wildlife sanctuaries are located within or in the vicinity of the area. No monuments or sites of historical or archaeological importance have been reported in the project area. There are sixteen villages to be affected by various project components. List and names of villages are given in Table 1.2.

1.3 Alternatives Considered

11. As the proposed LKHEP falls into the second phase of the Kopili River Valley Development Program, there was limited room for choosing suitable locations for the proposed reservoir, the dam, and the powerhouse. However, the selection of the project location was decided by considering the parameters such as the geological conditions, hydrology, and topography of the River Valley, physical and economic displacement of households, and the cost of their relocation and rehabilitation. Several geological surveys and studies conducted by the Geological Survey of India have established the locations for the construction of the key Project infrastructure. The selection of suitable construction locations for the powerhouse and its components was done after studying three alternatives, namely, surface, semi-underground, and underground powerhouses with their comparative costs. The surface alternative was found to be the most appropriate powerhouse complex because the topography of the alignment of water conductor system falls gradually and a geologically favourable site is available for ²Also known as North Cachar Hills Autonomous District (This is the old name of the District).

³Both autonomous districts and their councils were constituted under the Sixth Schedule of the Constitution of India. An autonomous council is sometimes referred to as a 'state in miniature' having legislative, executive and judicial powers. It has the autonomy to legislate and administer land, revenue, primary education, irrigation and drainage, and customary laws recognized by the Sixth Schedule. (See below section IV).

surge shaft and surface powerhouse. The existing road to the powerhouse location from the main road is an advantage of this option, as it facilitates easy access to the powerhouse and dam sites, avoiding delays associated with the construction of a new access road. The DPR identified 28 households to be physically displaced and relocated. This number has been reduced to 18 households as a result of the final adjustment of the FSL of the dam from 231 m to 229.6m.

1.4 Anticipated Socioeconomic and Other Benefits

12. As mentioned earlier, the hill tribals of Karbi Anglong and Dima Hasao Autonomous Districts resort to jhum cultivation by burning patches of forests and other scrub land on a large- scale, thereby destroying forest resources, increasing soil erosion rates, and causing ecological disturbances. GoA has planned to introduce terraced agricultural schemes with lift irrigation facilities, powered by the electricity generated by the Project. Such schemes, GoA believes, would encourage farmers to abandon jhum cultivation and their current practice of moving from one place to another in search of new land for jhum cultivation. The APs are aware of the importance of settled agricultural life. They expect the Government to provide them lift irrigation programs to cultivate terraced land with paddy and other field crops.

13. The APs will receive priority in the selection of employees of the project during its construction and implementation phases. The proposed skill development programs with APGCL's support and linkages established with the national-level and the state-level income generation schemes will provide better opportunities for them to earn a better income. Fishing in the reservoir and local tourism promotion will also generate new income sources for the local people, and especially for the APs.

14. The Project will play a significant role in improving the power supply in the State of Assam. This, in turn, will improve the livelihood and living conditions of the people. Industrial development and improvement of social facilities such as schools and hospitals directly benefit the APs. One of the objectives of CRTDP is to ensure that the outcome of such development will reach the APs enabling them to enjoy such benefits with others.

15. The Project will improve the road infrastructure in the project area. The Project area can be accessed from Guwahati, the Capital of the State of Assam, on the National Highway (NH36). From Lanka, a poorly maintained state highway runs almost parallel to the Project area and goes up to Garampai. The total distance is about 165 km from Guwahati to the Project site. Improved access and communication will link people in the remote project area with other towns and industrial locations improving their geographical, social and economic mobility. Such benefits will reduce rural poverty and vulnerability of many households in the project area and in its vicinity.

1.5 Rationale for Formulating a Combined Resettlement and Tribal Development Plan⁴

16. Given the social, political, and cultural backgrounds of the people who live in the proposed Project area, it is desirable and feasible to formulate a combined social safeguard planning instrument to deal with involuntary resettlement impacts of the project on the APs (as per resettlement safeguards), and the Project impacts on the Project affected scheduled tribes (as per indigenous peoples' safeguards). The justification for formulating a CRTDP for both types of impacts is given below:

- All the APs are members of scheduled tribes of the Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong Autonomous Districts. There are no social groups other than scheduled tribes in the Project area who will be affected by the proposed Project. Involuntary resettlement impacts of the Project and Project impacts on tribal peoples will be borne by the same tribal households who live in the Project area. Hence, a Combined Resettlement and Tribal Development Plan (CRTDP) is sufficient to address their resettlement issues and issues arising from their tribal status.

- APGCL, GoA, and ADCs treat the APs as scheduled tribal peoples as per the Indian Constitution. The Right to Fair Compensation and Transparency in Land Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Resettlement Act, 2013 (The Act of 2013) provides specific entitlements to tribal peoples when tribal land is acquired for a public purpose⁵. Such entitlements cannot be separated to formulate a RP and also an IPP, as the substance of both planning instruments will be the same. If a RP and an IPP is formulated, they would confuse the APs, as they might get the impression that they are entitled to receive two packages of compensation under the RP and the IPP from the Project. The total land area that will be acquired for the proposed project is considered as the land use by the scheduled tribes according to the regulations of ADCs. Use of such land is essentially communal. As a result, a person's or a household's use rights of such land is governed by residence and the recognition by others including the gaon bura as a tribal member who belongs to the specific tribe or clan. Although a person or a household does not own the land, when it is acquired for a public purpose, each resident household in the village is given a quasi- ownership certificate enabling it to get a land compensation package. From the ADC's point of view, the person lives on its land as a leaseholder; from an APs point view, he or she 'owns' the land as a member of the community through residence, membership in a particular tribe or clan, and the recognition by gaon bura. All these arrangements indicate that land acquisition, compensation and rehabilitation are tribal matters. Therefore, one planning instrument covering both involuntary resettlement and tribal development plans is sufficient to address resettlement and tribal issues.
- The APs negotiate compensation and resettlement assistance with ADCs and APGCL through their elected tribal representatives. These representatives have already participated in several rounds of negotiations and consultations with the ADCs, APGCL and GoA on compensation and resettlement issues pertaining to the proposed project. Through these negotiations and consultations, the ADCs have obtained the 'broad community support' for the project from the APs. This shows the primacy of the tribal development plan, and the auxiliary status of the RP.

17. In the above context, a CRTDP could address the objectives of (a) identifying potential adverse social impacts of the project on the APs; (b) formulation of planning measures to avoid or at least to mitigate them; and (c) ensuring that the APs receive project benefits.

⁵The Governor of the Assam State on 31 July 2015 declared the rules and regulations to implement the Act. He stated that the Act shall extend to whole of the State of Assam.

2. SCOPE OF LAND ACQUISITION AND RESETTLEMENT

2.1 Background

18. This section deals with the impact on land acquisition, involuntary resettlement and indigenous peoples during 2015 and 2020. The assessment is based on the land survey conducted by APGCL⁶ for all the affected land (initially for 1831 households). However, the socioeconomic survey was completed for Dima Hasao and yet to be started for Karbi Anglong. A socioeconomic survey has been conducted to capture the latest information on the affected households, and their relevant socioeconomic details pertaining to eligibility and entitlements towards updating the draft CRTDP. The Project Management Consultant (PMC) is already established and it is supporting APGCL in implementing the Project. APGCL hired an NGO for the implementation of CRTDP and has got a recent socioeconomic survey done by the NGO towards updating the CRTDP. The updated data is presented in the following few sections.

2.2. Land Requirement for Various Project Components

19. The total land area to be acquired by the project is 1,577 hectares (ha). The largest project component is the reservoir. It will submerge about 552 ha of land. Another 1,025 ha will be acquired for infrastructure facilities such project buildings, roads, and resettlement sites. Details are given in Table 2.1

2.3 Scope and Type of Land for Project Components

20. Total land required for the project is 1,577 ha of which 1,054 ha is revenue land and 523 ha is forest land. About one-third of the land to be acquired is state forest land (523 ha) including primary reserve forests, reserve forests, and land under social forestry programs. For the purpose of compensation under the CRTDP, 1,054 ha of land has been considered. The forest land will be compensated separately to the concerned forest department as per the government regulations. Partially affected land by the project components, especially by the reservoir, has been considered as fully affected land for the purpose of compensation, resettlement, and income restoration and improvement assistance programs. District wise details of land requirement for revenue land and forest land is described in Table 2.2.

2.4 Use of Revenue Land

21. Two-thirds of the land to be acquired are land where paddy (172 ha) and highland crops (882 ha) are cultivated. Details are given in Table 2.3

2.5 Loss of Crops and Trees

22. The total crop area lost is 1,054 ha. A survey has been done by ADCs to value the irrigation facilities and the trees that will be lost to the project. Most of the trees were planted for fodder (76%) and 12% for timber; 6% of the trees are fruit-bearing, and the remaining 6% are fuel wood. Table 2.4 provides details on the loss of trees.

2.6 Impact on Structures

23. A total of 18 primary structures especially residential dwelling will be affected which will cause physical displacement of 18 households. The primary structures are made of bamboo wall and tin roof. Photographs of some sample displaced houses are provided in Annex 12. Details on the physically displaced structures are provided in Table 2.5.

24. In addition to the 18 physically displaced structures, it has been found that 6 numbers of structures are partially affected. The partially affected structures are those where the portion of them such as extension of roof, boundary etc. are affected without any impact on the basic/main structure and without losing their land. Therefore, these will be restored through paying compensation as per the entitlement matrix.

2.7 Economic and Physical Displacement

25. The project will affect 18 households which are considered physically displaced. The Project will directly affect 1,217 households of which 18 will be physically displaced. APGCL will resettle the 18 displaced households at a resettlement colony in the Project area before their houses are submerged. The location of the resettlement site was identified during the preparation of DPR. The total area of the resettlement site is 5 ha. Details are given in Table 2.6

Table 2.6: Affected Households

2.8 Affected Households/Affected Persons and Vulnerability

26. Total numbers of affected households are 1,217 having an estimated 5,695 numbers of affected persons. Dima Hasao District has a total of 986 affected households (4,609 affected persons) and Karbi Anglong has a total of 231 affected households (estimated⁷ affected persons- 1,086). All the 1,217 affected households are considered as vulnerable households as they belong to the Autonomous District Council which is tribal area.

2.9 Impacts on Downstream

27. There will be no physical or economic displacement of people in the downstream area. Study on the downstream impact has been covered in the Environment Impact Assessment (EIA) report⁸ and necessary mitigation measures have been proposed. Since LKHP is planned as a run-off-river scheme (with reservoir draw-down and storage for peaking power production), the diversion of water for hydropower generation will result in change in the hydrological regime of the area, such as drying or reduced flow in the River stretch downstream. There are no major users of water in the intervening stretches, as the river stretch flows through a gorge. Also, the water of river Kopili is highly acidic in ⁷In the absence of 100% census surveys, number of affected persons is estimated based on an average household size which is 4.7 persons per households.

LKHP. Thus, riverine fishery is not found in the area. As a result, there are no major users of water of River Kopili in LKHP. To minimize likely impacts on downstream river, it is proposed to release minimum e-flow as recommended by Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEF&CC)⁹.

28. A catchment area treatment plan¹⁰ has been prepared as part of this EIA which will have measures to control pH. The measures suggested under this study will be implemented by APGCL as part of LKHP. Additionally, an alerting system is envisaged in the project design, and activities are planned to increase resilience of communities. However, it would not have any involuntary resettlement impacts. In case of any unforeseen impacts in the future, the same will further be studied by the implementing NGO and necessary mitigation will be adopted during implementation.

3. SOCIOECONOMIC INFORMATION AND PROFILE

3.1 Overview

30. The socioeconomic and cultural aspects of the APs and their communities were examined through a socioeconomic survey of the affected households conducted in the Project area in November 2019. This was undertaken to suggest appropriate measures to avoid or, at least, to mitigate potential adverse project impacts on the affected communities and propose ways and means by which the APs could benefit from the Project.

31. A structured socioeconomic questionnaire was administered in December 2015 to a total of 192 affected households consists of 177 economically displaced households and 18 physically displaced households in the Project area. The 177 households were randomly selected from the 16 villages that will be affected. The same data have been updated in November 2019.

3.2 District Profile

32. The Project sites are located in Karbi Anglong and Dima Hasao Autonomous Districts of the State of Assam. Dima Hasao Autonomous District covers an area of 4,888 sq km and has a population of 214,102. The Karbi Anglong Autonomous District covers an area of 10,434 sq km and has a total population of 906,313 (2011 Census Report, Gol). The two autonomous districts are sparsely populated: 92 persons per sq km in the Karbi Anglong Autonomous District, and 44 persons per sq. km in the Dima Hasao Autonomous District. The average population per sq. km in the two districts is substantially lower than that of the State of Assam (SoA)'s average density of 398 persons per sq km (2011 Census Report, Gol).

3.2.1 Demography and Literacy at District Level

33. As per the 2011 Census Report, in Dima Hasao Autonomous District, 70.9 percent of the total population were tribal peoples. In the Karbi Anglong Autonomous District, 59.4 percent population were tribal peoples. Tribal populations constituted 14 percent of SoA's population. Sex ratio in the Karbi Anglong Autonomous District was 951 and in the Dima Hasao District, this ratio was 932. Ratios in both Districts were lower than that of the SoA which was 958 (Census of India, 2011).

34. In 2011, the percentage of literate persons in Dima Hasao was 77.5 percent, which was higher than that of SOA's average of 72.19 percent. In Karbi Anglong Autonomous District, the literacy rate was 69.25 percent, that was lower than the literacy rate of the SoA. The female literacy rate was lower than that of the male in the Districts: in Karbi Anglong Autonomous District, the male literacy rate was 76 percent, and the female literacy rate was 63 percent, whereas in the Dima Hasao Autonomous District, male literacy rate was 83 percent, and only 71 percent of women were literate.

35. The level of urbanization in 2011 in both Districts was low: in the Dima Hasao District, it was 12 percent and in Karbi Anglong Autonomous District, it was 29 percent (Table 3.1).

3.2.2 Tribal Groups

36. The major scheduled tribes living in the Dima Hasao Autonomous District are Dimasas, Zeme Nagas, Biata, Hmars, Kukis, Hrangkhawls, Vaipheis, Karbis, Khasi-pnars and Khelmas. The scheduled tribes in the Karbi Anglong Autonomous District are Rengmas, Dimasas and Koch. Gorkhas, Kuki-Chin. Peoples such as Kukis, Hmars and Mizos, Garos, Tiwas, Khasis and Chakmas also live in the District. As mentioned earlier, in the Karbi Anglong Autonomous District, nearly 60 percent of the total population belong to scheduled tribes, and in the Dima Hasao Autonomous District, 71 percent of the population belong to scheduled tribes (Table 3.1). There are no distinctive differences between the tribal peoples and other rural dwellers. All of them depend on leased land to earn their living either as cultivators or wage workers. As the majority of populations in both the Autonomous Districts-the scheduled tribe share their co-identity of scheduled tribes with other tribes. They together with other rural dwellers share vulnerabilities in coping with rapid urbanization, finding employment, and getting higher education opportunities for their children.

3.3 Findings of the Socioeconomic Survey

37. Following section describes the socioeconomic profile of the affected population as depicted by the socioeconomic survey.

3.3.1 Population Distribution in the Project Area

38. 4,131 persons live in the 986 household surveyed. All of these families are Scheduled Tribes (STs). Of the affected people 77.5% are male and the rest are female; they are in the age range of 19-97 years. The average household size is 4.2.

3.3.2 Occupational Status

39. The affected land belong to the leaseholders and cultivation is the main occupation of 88% of the households. There is no landless daily wage worker who earn their living exclusively on working in others' land. Very few of the APs are engaged in white collar employment such as government service and private sector employment; of the women only 23 are in service (Table3.11).

3.3.3 Household Income

40. The per capita income of Assam is the lowest in India. Tendulkar Committee's estimates indicate that poverty levels are high in rural areas than in urban areas. Assam is a rural state with a few urban cities and industrial centres. Isolated location of Assam, far away from the main production centres of India, is one of the key reasons for its low level of economic progress. Its adverse climatic conditions also contribute to sluggish economic growth. Frequent floods and soil erosion in and around the Brahmaputra and nearby river valleys periodically push many households into severe poverty after destroying or damaging their property and crops. Cross-border conflicts in the border areas too adversely impact on the local economies of Karbi Anglong and Dima Hasao ADCs, causing instability and insecurity in the area. A spatial analysis would show that areas close to water bodies and barren land such as the project areas are prone to having high incidence of rural poverty. The link between poverty in such areas and unstable law and order conditions is now being considered as a standard incidence across North Eastern India. Until a good communication system is established, all-weather roads are built to connect these remote and 'unruly' areas with the towns and cities, and sufficient capital is invested in industries and agricultural pursuits, it is difficult to trigger a sustainable local development in Assam. As per the Tendulkar Methodology, 101.27 lakh or 1.01 crore of Assam's population are categorized as BPL. Percentage-wise, 31.98 per cent of Assam's total population is BPL. The State specific poverty lines for 2011-12 for Assam are monthly per capita income of ₹828 for rural areas and ₹1,008 for urban areas.

41. Average household size in the Project area is 4.3. About 4 percent of the households earned up to ₹800 per capita per month (Table 3.4), the rest of the households are regarded falling above the official poverty line (BPL category).¹¹

¹¹As per new definition the poverty line, recommended by GOI, a person spending ₹32 or more a day in rural areas, and ₹47 or more a day in towns and cities, should not be considered as poor (recommendation of an expert panel headed by former RBI Governor C Rangarajan). This supersedes the previous Suresh Tendulkar panel's recommendations in 2011–2012 that fixed the poverty line at ₹27 or more a day in rural areas, and ₹33 or more in urban areas per person a day.

As the NGO is presently undertaking the socioeconomic and census survey in the Project villages of the two Districts the final information will be available in two to three months' time. This exercise was delayed due to Covid19 Pandemic and it has been resumed very recently. The following yellow highlighted portion is retained from the old write up regarding baseline data from SIA; and will be subsequently updated when the SE and Census data are available.

3.3.4 Population Distribution by Age

42. About 30 percent of the population are children (below 14 years). Two-thirds of the population are in productive age (15–60 years). As the Table 15 shows, 65 percent of men and 70 of women are in the productive age category. In finding employment and restoring lost or affected livelihoods, this factor is important as most of the employment at the project worksites will be suitable for men. Special skill training programs for women will be needed to engage them in project construction and implementation activities (Table 3.5).

3.3.5 Family Structure

43. More than three-fourths of the surveyed households are nuclear households. About 13 percent of households are joint-families, and 10 percent of households are extended families (Table 3.6).

3.3.6 Categories of Households by Religion

44. The dominant religious group in the project area is the Hindu community. Although they identify themselves as Hindus, most of them practice animistic and local rituals, and follow their own belief systems which are different from that of the Hinduism. About one-third of the affected households are Christians belonging to various denominations (Table 3.7).

3.3.7 Marital Status

45. Except at two households, all households are married couples with their children and dependents. In each of the two households, a widower and a widow were found (Table 3.8). Widowers and widows fall into the vulnerable category, and will require special assistance in restoring their incomes.

46. 56 percent of household heads are illiterate. About 43 percent of household heads have studied up to the 10 grade in school. Only about one percent of household heads reached the year 12 in school and 02 percent of household heads are graduates (Table 3.9).

3.3.9 Educational Status of the Affected Households by Gender

48. Cultivation of land is the main occupation of both men and women. Income from the cultivation of land is supplemented by selling labour seasonally and by engaging in allied agricultural work such as raising pigs, chicken small businesses. Only a few men are engaged in trade and professional employment (Table 3.12).

3.3.10 Duration of Living in Villages

49. About 20 percent of the sample households have lived in their current village communities for less than 15 years. One-third of households have lived in their current locations between 15 to 30 years. Others have lived more than 30 years in their village communities. This shows that the village communities are stable although households depend on the leaseholds that they obtained from ADCs. As primarily jhum cultivators, farmers have developed a sedentary farmer life style in the project area. Although land is held by each household for five years or less on lease, it considers the land it cultivates and the homestead as its own lands in a tribal community (Table 3.13). This perception does not clash with ADC's perception that its own all land in the district, as both residents and ADC derive their rights over the land as tribals under the Schedule VI of the Indian Constitution. Broadly an ADC is the custodian of the tribal land in its district of authority held on behalf of all native tribes in the area.

3.3.11 Type of Land

50. The survey findings reveal that most of the land in the project area (92%) is un-irrigated cultivated land. None of the households is reported to have irrigated cultivated land. 8% of the households reported that they have homestead land (Table3.14)

3.3.12 Land Tenure Status

51. It is found that most of the land owners are on leasehold and there is no tenant or landless household as per the sample household surveys. As jhum cultivators, a villager could move from one location to another with the permission of the gaon bura of the village to cultivate rain-fed crops. Such an arrangement is a temporary agreement between the gaon bura and the villager, and the latter paid the former a fee for the use of land that belongs to the ADC. A villager could also find a piece of land with the assistance of gaon bura to establish a homestead. As a result, no affected household is landless. Each of them holds a piece of land in the village on lease from the ADC with the approval of the gaon bura (Table3.15).

3.3.13 Types of Landholding

52. The average size of cultivated leasehold in the project area is 12 bighas or 1.63ha.¹²The average size of an uncultivated land holding per household is 03 bighas or 0.53 ha. Only about 03 percent of households hold non-cultivable barren dry land (Table3.16). Such land is of no use. They use such land occasionally to obtain timber to build ancillary structures for animals and storage facilities.

3.3.14 Possession of Legal Documents

53. About 54 percent of households have documents that show that they are permitted to occupy the homesteads where they live, and to cultivate land in the villages. These documents indicated the period that they could hold such land, and the maximum tenure period is 5 years subject to renewal. Other 45% of households do not have any such documents to show their rights to cultivate land or to occupy homesteads. Some of them did not even hear about such documents. But all of them hold land in the villages with the explicit approval of the gaon bura of the village who is the direct representative of the ADC. 95 percent of households have either the ration cards or aadhaar card (biometric Identity card). Of all 84 percent of households have their voter identity cards (Table 3.17). These cards are the proof of their nationality or citizenship and residence in the State. These identity cards issued by the State Government or by ADCs entitle them to obtain food and other assistance. They also facilitate the disbursement of compensation among them in case of land acquisition.

¹²Land is generally measured in bighas. One bigha is equal to 1,333 sq metres; and 7.5 bighas are equal to one hectare.

3.3.15 Cropping Patterns

54. Rice (paddy) under rain-fed conditions is the major crop cultivated in the project area, followed by sugarcane. More than 55 percent of households cultivate vegetable in their home gardens. Of all 30 percent of households cultivate pulses for which there is a good demand at the local and external markets. Some APs pointed out that if land cultivation is mechanized they would cultivate a variety of pulses on a large-scale (Table 3.18). Fruit cultivation is limited as the farmers cannot get water during the dry season.

3.3.16 Migration Pattern

55. As discussed above, residents in the project-affected villages have been living in their communities for a long period. Only a few residents moved into the villages from outside in recent years (Table 3.19). They arrived in their current villages because they were invited by their relatives in the villages or they obtained permission from the gaon bura and ADC to move to an area, where they were allocated land to cultivate and establish homesteads. As most of the lands in the Project area are un-irrigated leased land, a new comer can easily obtain a piece of land from the ADC through gaon bura to cultivate a new jhum allotment.

3.3.17 Expenditure Patterns

56. Expenditure on basic food items is the main expenditure of all households. It is high because households depend on subsistence agriculture and do not get a secured and an adequate harvest from their crops. They cultivate rain-fed crops on dry high land. Such crops often fail compelling them to buy rice, pulses, and other food items from the market for which they pay exorbitant prices. Only 37 percent of the households spent money on milk and milk products and 90 percent of households spend money on meat and meat products (Table 3.21). Transport expenses explain their remoteness or isolation from the mainstream society. The health expenditure is the next, and it shows the lack of adequate health services in the project area, where most of the households suffer from malaria and waterborne diseases. Education occupies the sixth place in expenditure ranking.

3.3.18 Debt of Affected Households

57. About 12 percent of the surveyed households reported that they are always in debt. Monthly debt of these households ranges from ₹500 to ₹3,000 per household. Most of the borrowing is from neighbours and village traders. The money borrowed is spent mostly on food and transportation (Table 3.22).

3.3.19 Assets Owned

58. Each household owns a mobile phone regardless of its household income. 80 percent of households have TVs, and about 50 percent own tape recorders and players. Only 03 percent of households have LP gas connections to cook food. Almost all households depend on firewood collected from the area to cook food. Bicycle is the popular mode of transport especially among men. About 25 percent of households own tractors. They are hired by others to plough their land and transport goods (Table3.23).

3.3.20 Source and use of Water

59. Two-thirds of households in the project area get water from ring-wells.¹⁴Nearly half of households get their water from springs in the area, and 03 percent obtain water from the river. However, the river water is contaminated and is not suitable for human consumption. Only one percent of households are connected to a water supply program. For washing and cleaning, 46 percent households use water from ring-wells and 30 percent of households use springs water. Others use river water for such purposes. About 38 percent of households who rear cattle use ring-well water to feed them, and others use river water or spring water (Table3.24).

3.3.21 Health Status of Households

60. Malaria harms the majority of households. During the past three years, about two-thirds of households suffered from malaria. About one third of the households also suffered from jaundice, and four percent from cholera. Several households suffered from TB and gallbladder problems. They also suffer from skin diseases because of poor hygiene and bad water (Table 3.25). Because of frequent illnesses, many men and women could not engage in productive work, and children could not go to school over a long spell of time in each year.

3.3.22 Type of Medical Treatment

61. When ill, about 57 percent of households depend on allopathic treatment, and another 40 percent of households depended on local or indigenous treatment. Very few (3 percent) sought homeopathy treatment for their illnesses. Hospitals and dispensaries are located far away from the villages (Table 3.26). Unless the disease is serious, villagers tend to seek treatment from their village physicians who are not formally trained as medical practitioners. The village communities urgently need dispensaries and a base hospital in the Project area.

3.3.23 Access to HealthCare

62. About 18 percent of households have access to private physicians who lives within a distance of 0.5 to 3 km from their houses for treatment. About 13 percent of households in affected villages in Karbi Anglong autonomous district visit government hospitals which are located about 07–08 km away from villages. In Dima Hasao autonomous district, most of the households (86 percent) sought treatment at government hospitals in Umrangso and Lanka towns which are located 21 to 35 km in km away from the project. About 80 percent of households have access to primary health care center at Langku which is located 0.5 to 4 km away from villages. In 2015, 47 percent of households availed the polio vaccination for the young children (Table 3.27). Difficulties in travelling discourage many patients to seek medical assistance at Lanka town.

3.4 Gender Assessment

3.4.1 Women’s Participation in Village Economy and Society

63. Consultations and focus group discussions with the project-affected women were conducted to ascertain the role women play in households' activities and decision making. The predominant activities in which women are engaged i are cooking, fetching water, and cleaning the house, on which they spend most of their time. Women in 80 percent of the households contribute to the household economy by collecting forest products such as fruits, firewood, and vegetable. The inundation of some forest area by the project reservoir will directly affect their sources of income. Women in two-thirds of households participate in agricultural activities with their spouses, and 45 percent are engaged in petty businesses and rearing livestock (Table3.28) to supplement household incomes. Income from such activities is kept by women. They spend the money on visiting relatives, shopping in Lanka for them and children, and saving money through their organizations such as self-help-groups for future use.

3.4.2 Participation of Women in Household Decision-Making

64. About 96 percent of heads of households stated that the women actively participate in decision making in their households. Women actively engage themselves in day-to-day activities of the households and in decision making with regard to important issues such as the construction of houses, children' education and health, and in buying or selling household assets. Women take the lead role in marriages and other social functions. Usually they control the finances of the households. In farming, they play a role as assistants to their spouses, especially during planting and harvesting seasons (Table 3.29).

3.5 Summary Findings

65. Over the decades, the tribal economy and the livelihood strategies have undergone changes in the lower Kopili River Valley. The scheduled tribes in the Project area depend on natural resources such as forests to earn their living as jhum cultivators and to gather food. They do not have any other sources to diversify their income sources and livelihoods. Rapid pace of industrialization has alienated some tribes from their traditional natural resource base forcing them to search for newer livelihood options. The contamination of the River water because of the upstream mining activities has deprived the tribes in the project area from earning a supplementary income and from a source of animal protein (fish). Increased population, demand for food, and alienation from natural habitat has made some tribes to depend on markets. Some youth left their homes and migrated to urban areas. They have been exposed to all kinds of exploitation and marginalization in their new and unfamiliar urban space.

66. The shift in tribal economy and diversification of livelihoods and occupations can be seen as the beginning of the decline in some traditional livelihood strategies. For example, hunting and fishing have declined as forests shrank and river fishing became impossible. Ecological degradation has severely curtailed the related traditional occupations such as trapping of birds and animals, pastoral activities and jhum cultivation. However, there is a rise in horticulture, terraced cultivation, settled cultivation and animal husbandry. Despite all the changes in recent years, the proportion of households deriving income from a monthly salary is lowest among the scheduled tribes. Depending on rain-fed highland jhum cultivation does not help them to redeem themselves from the vicious cycle of poverty and vulnerability.

67. By any development indicator- education, health facilities, and housing conditions—the scheduled tribal communities in the project area are in the bottom of the hierarchy as in case of the scheduled tribes in other areas. High incidence of malaria and jaundice make them physically weak and, as a result, they lose many days of productive labour in each year. This aggravates their poverty and vulnerability. Therefore, it is necessary to pay them special attention and to ensure that development strategies in their areas would not bypass them or hurt them. The resettlement and income restoration strategies of the project will take the above into consideration.

4. POLICY AND LEGAL FRAMEWORK

5. During the early British colonial rule in India, tribal communities were, at least, notionally a part of the 'unknown frontier' or outside the jurisdiction of the state authority. This identity had led them to develop an intricate 'convivial-custodial' mode of living. In other words, they had their own traditions of governance outside the purview of a State. Much of this changed when the British rulers started the 'permanent settlement' in 1783. The zamindari system, established with the permanent settlement of land, consolidated the colonial ruler's control over land including tribal customary land. The rulers designated loyal local zamindaris (feudal lords) to collect land revenue from all land users. These arrangements significantly changed and restructured the relationship of tribal communities with the territories where they lived, and the power relations between them and 'others' including the State.

6. The Scheduled District Act of 1874, the Government of India Act of 1919, and the Government of India Act of 1935, classified remote hill areas, especially hill areas in the northeast India as 'excluded' and 'partially excluded' areas, where the provincial administration did not wield much authority or jurisdiction. Provincial British rulers obtained the help of local chiefs to govern the areas, maintain law and order, and collect land and crop taxes. As a result, such lands had never been brought under the direct rule of the British or within the jurisdiction of ordinary courts. This adversely affected their opportunities for development and social mobility. Moreover, colonial administrators branded some such tribes as 'unruly and wild' criminal tribes.

7. The India Act of 1935 stated that no act of the Central or the Provincial legislatures would apply to such areas unless the provincial governor decided to do so. The Act also recognized customary laws among tribal communities as valid laws that are applicable to them. In May 1946, the Constituent Assembly of India appointed an advisory committee on fundamental rights of minorities in tribal areas. One of its sub-committees was the Northeast (Assam) Tribal and Excluded Areas Sub-committee, chaired by the Assam Premier, Gopinath Bordoloi. The advisory committee concluded that the tribal peoples are sensitive towards their land, forest, lifestyle, and traditional systems of justice and, therefore, special safeguards were needed to protect and preserve them. The Sub-committee pointed out that in tribal communities there were self-governing democratic institutions which are embedded in traditional tribal culture. These two key conclusions formed the basis for the Schedule V and Schedule VI established under the Article 244 of the Indian Constitution. They provide a degree of self-governance to the designated (or 'scheduled') tribal communities.

8. The Schedule V specifically focuses on the tribal communities in India excluding in the States of Assam, Meghalaya, Tripura and Mizoram. As a result, the Dima Hasao and the Karbi Anglong Autonomous Districts do not come under the purview of the Schedule V. The applicable Schedule of the Indian Constitution to these two Districts is the amended version of the Schedule VI found in the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 1995. This revised version expanded the scope of the powers of the Dima Hasao (North Cachar Hills¹⁵) Autonomous District Council and the Karbi Anglong Autonomous District Council by transferring some State activities listed in Schedule VII of the Indian Constitution.

4.1 Scheduled Areas

9. In the Constitution of India, a 'Scheduled Area' is defined as a contiguous physical area that the President of India declares as a 'Scheduled Area'. The following criteria are generally considered in declaring an area in a state as a scheduled area: (a) preponderance of tribal population; (b) compactness and reasonable size of the area; (c) marked under-development in the area; and (d) high disparity in economic standards between the people who live in the area and areas in the vicinity. The Government of Assam heavily depended on the above criteria in seeking the award of the status of 'scheduled areas' to several areas in Assam.

4.2 Scheduled Tribes

10. According to the Article 366 (25) of the Constitution of India, 'scheduled tribes' are tribal communities that are listed under the Schedule V or VI of the Constitution of India. The purpose of such listing is to make a tribe eligible to receive from the State special socioeconomic assistance to overcome their backwardness and vulnerability. The Article 342 of the Constitution notifies that scheduled tribes as having five major characteristics- primitive traits, geographical isolation, a distinct culture, shyness of contact with community at large, and economic backwardness.

11. From the 1950s, the Government of India has introduced progressive legislation to develop and empower scheduled tribes. Among them are the Provision of the Panchayats (Extension to the Scheduled Areas) Act of 1996; the Minor Forest Produce Act, 2005; the Scheduled Tribes and Other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights) Act, 2006 (FRA); and the Right to Fair Compensation and Transparency in Land Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Resettlement Act of 2013 (the Act of 2013). The Act of 2013 focuses inter alia on the protection of interests and rights of tribes and scheduled tribes in case of land acquisition for a public purpose, their resettlement and economic rehabilitation.

4.3 Autonomous District Councils

12. The Schedule VI of the Constitution of India established several autonomous district councils (ADCs) in the northeast India. An ADC provides an administrative structure to safeguard tribal peoples' interests in customary land, customs, and traditional ways of living. Each ADC provides a political framework for tribal peoples in self-government, and also generates opportunities for them to participate in economic and social development in the autonomous district area.

13. The section 3 of the Schedule VI of the Constitution of India provides a detailed account of an ADC's power to make laws relating to industries, preservation, protection and improvement of animal stock and prevention of animal diseases, communication, inland waterways, primary and secondary education, agriculture, agricultural education and research, fisheries, water supplies, irrigation and canals, drainage and embankments, water storage and hydro power, social security and social insurance, employment and unemployment, flood control schemes for protection of villages, paddy fields, markets, towns, public health and sanitation, minor irrigation, trade and commerce, libraries and museums, alienation of land (other than reserved forest) for agricultural or grazing or residential or for any other purpose which is likely to promote the interests of the inhabitants of any village or town, the regulation of jhum or other forms of shifting cultivation, the inheritance of property, marriage, divorce, and social customs.

14. With regard to the allotment, occupation, and use of land, the state government can supersede the laws and regulations of the ADC's laws and regulations, if the State Government wants to compulsorily acquire any land, whether occupied or unoccupied, for a public purpose in accordance with the state laws and regulations pertaining to land acquisition (Section 3 (a) of Schedule VI).

4.4 Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong Autonomous District Councils

15. Both Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs have gone through a chequered history during the past 200 years which transformed them from citizens of a kingdom to tribal people with different identities. Before the British took over the Kachari Kingdom in mid-19th century, using its 'doctrine of lapse'¹⁶, the Dima Hasao and the Karbi Anglong areas were parts of the Kachari Kingdom that extended to the current Myanmar territory. The British colonial rulers combined the NC Cachar area, a part of Nowgong region, and the Karbi regions of the southern part of the kingdom into a protectorate and appointed the Damasa Karachi's General Thuleram Senapathi as the ruler of the protectorate and accepted his suzerainty. When he died in 1854, the British denied succession to his sons, and annexed it under the 'doctrine of lapse' to the British territories in India.

16. In the 1880s, the Dima Hasao became a subdivision of the Cachar Hill District. Since then the district was administered as an 'excluded' area under the Scheduled District Act of 1874 till India gained independence in 1947. In 1951, it was amalgamated with Mikir Hills District to form the United Mikir and Dimasa Hasao District. The Dimasa Hasao region remained a subdivision of that District until February 1970 when it became a full-fledged autonomous district of the State of Assam, as per the Schedule VI of the Indian Constitution. In 1976, the remaining part of Mirikar Hills District became the Karbi Anglong Autonomous District.

17. Dimasa Hasao and Karbi Anglong Autonomous Districts have the autonomy to legislate and administer the subjects such as land, revenue, transport, public works, primary education, customary laws, fisheries, forests, planning and development, marketing and other subjects that are assigned under the Schedule VI of the Constitution of India. No State or Union law or regulation applies to an autonomous district council area unless the Governor of the State of Assam specifically adopts them as applicable to the ADC. A Deputy Commissioner, appointed by the Governor of the State, runs the civil administration and maintains law and order in each autonomous district. The Executive Committee of an ADC is elected by its 'citizens' or 'members'. Several ministries elected from among the legislative council members of the ADC are in charge of the ADC's development policies, finances, law and order, and land administration.

18. With its focus on 'faster, sustainable and more inclusive growth', the 12th Five-Year Plan of India highlights that concerns of the poor, scheduled castes, scheduled tribes, other backward classes, minorities, and other marginalised groups, and the need for addressing them early. As recently as 2013, the peoples of Dimasa Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs agitated through a Joint Action Committee for Autonomous State (JACAS) for the establishment of an autonomous state, as per the provisions of Article 244(A) of the Constitution of India. This has been a long-standing demand of the peoples of the two districts. Their demand is based on the conviction that only an independent state can solve their deep-rooted poverty, marginality, and underdevelopment. According to them, the Schedule VI of the Constitution of India is ill-equipped to protect the rights and to improve their socio economic and political conditions over the past 70 years. The formation of an autonomous state is expected to follow the 'Plan of Autonomous State', formulated by JACAS. JACAS in consultation with the representatives of the two districts has also prepared a draft constitution for the proposed new state.

4.5 Key Legal Instruments Applicable to Tribal Rights and their Involuntary

¹⁶The doctrine was introduced by British rulers in India to deal with the question of succession to Hindu India States. It was a corollary of the 'doctrine of paramountcy' which states as the ruling power in India the Great Britain claims the superintendence of the subordinate Indian States, and also the regulation of their succession.

Displacement

4.5.1 The Constitution of India

19. The Constitution provides a framework with a four-pronged strategy to improve the socioeconomic status of scheduled tribes:

- Proactive arrangements to enforce equality among all citizens, punish any transgression, and eliminate practices that perpetuate inequality among them. The Panchayats (Extension to the Scheduled Areas) Act 1996, and the Scheduled Tribes and other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights) Act, 2006 (FRA) are the two key legislations to achieve this objective;
- Compensatory discrimination known as 'reservations' provides a positive and preferential treatment to tribal peoples in the allotment of employment and access to higher education as a means to accelerate their integration with the main stream society;
- Each State of India has to provide special economic assistance to eradicate poverty among vulnerable and backward tribal communities including 'scheduled tribes'; and,
- The Constitution of India directs the Government of India to enact a composite legislation regarding the acquisition of tribal land, compensation payment, and relocation and rehabilitation of the affected tribal communities.

20. In India, tribals have the same rights as non-tribals to development, resources, and services. But their development aspirations and the resources that are available for them to achieve the aspirations differ from that of others. Therefore, specific or targeted development strategies are needed to (i) overcome their marginalization and vulnerability, (ii) protect the rights and interests; and (iii) facilitate their participation in national and local development. Schedule V and Schedule VI of the Constitution ensure their economic welfare and social and political participation in regional and national development.

21. As a solution to physical and economic displacement of tribal peoples by development projects, the Government of India and State Governments have applied a 'Welfare Model of Development' to enable them in benefitting from national and regional development. This model was introduced in the first Five-Year Plan of India in the 1950s and was modified overtime through various welfare programs introduced by various committees such as Elwin Committee (1959) and Scheduled Areas and Tribes Commission (1961). However, widespread indebtedness, delays in land alienation programs, educational backwardness, and poor communication facilities persist adversely affecting tribal peoples. In 1981, the Integrated Tribal Development Project (ITDP) and several other programs attempted to address such issues.

22. LKHP also takes a welfare approach to resolve problems arising from economic and physical displacement of tribal communities. The recognition of customary land rights as legal rights of tribal peoples was a landmark achievement. It enabled them to receive cash compensation or lost property, resettlement and development assistance, employment on priority basis in projects that displaced them, and receive local development commitments such as better educational and health facilities and public infrastructure.

4.5.2 The Scheduled Tribes and other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights) Act, 2006 (FRA)

23. The preamble to the Act states that it is "[A]n Act to recognise and vest the forest rights and occupation in forest land in forest dwelling Scheduled Tribes and other forest dwellers who have been residing in such forests for generations but whose rights could not be recorded; [and] to provide for a framework for recording the forest rights so vested and the nature of evidence required for such recognition and vesting in respect of forest land.” The Act elaborates the justification for the above as follows:

- Whereas the recognised rights of the forest dwelling Scheduled Tribes and other traditional forest dwellers include the responsibilities and authority for sustainable use, conservation of biodiversity and maintenance of ecological balance and thereby strengthening the conservation regime of the forests while ensuring livelihood and food security of the forest dwelling Scheduled Tribes and other traditional forest dwellers;
- And whereas the forest rights on ancestral lands and their habitat were not adequately recognised in the consolidation of state forests during the colonial period and in independent India resulting in historical injustice to the forest dwelling Scheduled Tribes and other traditional forest dwellers which are integral to the very survival and sustainability of the forest ecosystem;
- And whereas it has become necessary to address the long-standing insecurity of tenure and access rights of forest dwelling Scheduled Tribes and other traditional forest dwellers including those who were forced to relocate their dwelling due to State development interventions.

24. Dima Hasao ADC considers the Project-affected areas as ‘forest land’ and the APs as forest dwellers. The ADC has informed the APs about the proposed project, its land acquisition requirements, and compensation rates. It has conducted the procedures prescribed by FRA including meaningful consultation with the APs. The Principal Secretary of the Dima Hasao ADC informed GoA and APGCL on 30 October 2015 that the ADC had completed the “process for identification and settlement of rights under the FRA...for the entire 1387 ha of forest land and private land proposed for diversion.” The process adequately addressed the detailed guidelines issued by the Ministry of Environment and Forest (MOEF) pertaining to the implementation of the FRA. The claim of the Dima Hasao ADC that it has followed all the regulations and procedures of the FRA is to be construed as the completion of detailed and meaningful consultations with potential APs at the village level; not at the gram sabha level.

25. In case of Karbi Anglong ADC, the Principal Secretary wrote to the Chief General Manager (Hydro) of APGCL on 15 September 2015- “I am to state in the absence of Village Councils in Karbi Anglong autonomous district the provisions of the ‘Scheduled Tribes and other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights) Act, 2006’ cannot be applied to the project. Hence the necessary certification regarding the forest land proposed to be delivered after the due consultations and the meetings of Forest Right Committee and Gram Sahbas cannot be provided as per section 5 (2) of the FRA 2006. Therefore, in order to facilitate the progress of the small, medium and other hydroelectric projects, the Karbi Anglong Autonomous Council Authority, Vide the Executive Committee meeting held on 29/07/2015, has decided to issue no objection certificate (NOC) as statutory requirement for all APGCL projects in respect of issues relating to project affected tribal population of Lower Kopili Hydro Electric Project...as per point 3 of the Executive Resolution No. 7.”

26. The inability of Karbi Anglong ADC to consult project-affected tribal persons at the village-level, as requested by FRA, has been compensated by regular consultations conducted by GoA, ADC, and APGCL from 2008 with potential APs on land acquisition, compensation rates and the relocation program. In any case, the application of the Act of 2013 to the project regarding land acquisition, compensation payment, relocation, and rehabilitation meets FRA requirements adequately.

4.5.3 Right to Fair Compensation and Transparency in Land Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Resettlement Act, 2013

27. The Act applies to India except one state clearly indicate. Its scope includes tribal areas, scheduled areas, 'non-cadastral' lands in scheduled tribal areas. The Act has consolidated various laws, regulations, guidelines, and international best practices pertaining to involuntary resettlement and indigenous peoples. By the Orders of the Governor of Assam State on 31 July 2015, the Government of Assam issued Rules to adopt the Act of 2013 in its entirety for the State of Assam¹⁷. The Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs fall within the ambit of the Act¹⁸. The Section 41 of the Act of 2013 states that in case of the acquisition or the alienation of any land in scheduled areas, the prior consent of the concerned gram Sabha or the panchayats or the autonomous district councils, at the appropriate level, should be obtained.

28. The aims and objectives of the Act include: (i) to ensure, in consultation with institutions of local self-government and GramSabhAs established under the constitution of India, a humane, participative, informed and transparent process for land acquisition for industrialization, development of essential infrastructural facilities and urbanization with the least disturbance to the owners of the land and other affected families; (ii) provide just and fair compensation to the affected families whose land has been acquired or proposed to be acquired or are affected by such acquisition; (iii) make adequate provisions for such affected persons for their rehabilitation and resettlement; (iv) ensure that the cumulative outcome of compulsory acquisition should be that affected persons become partners in development leading to an improvement in their post- acquisition social and economic status and for matters connected therewith or incidental there to. Section 27 of the Act defines the method by which market value of the land shall be computed under the proposed law. Schedule I outlines the proposed minimum compensation based on a multiple of market value. Schedule II through VI outline the resettlement and rehabilitation entitlements to land owners and livelihood losers, which shall be in addition to the minimum compensation per Schedule I.

29. The following specific entitlements that are elaborated in the Act of 2013 meet the international best practices in voluntary resettlement and indigenous people's safeguards found in the ADB's Involuntary Resettlement Policy and Indigenous Peoples Safeguard Policy:

- ✓ As far as possible, no acquisition of land shall be made in the scheduled areas. Where such acquisition does take place it shall be done only as a demonstrable last resort (section 41 (1) and (2)).
- ✓ In acquiring or alienating land in the scheduled areas, the prior consent of the concerned gram sabha or panchayats or the autonomous district councils, at the appropriate level, shall be obtained before issuing a notification under any Central or State Act for land acquisition. It is necessary to obtain the consent of panchayats or autonomous districts councils where the gram sabhas do not exist or has not been constituted (section 41 (3)).
- ✓ In case of a project involving land acquisition on behalf of a acquiring body which involves involuntary displacement of scheduled tribal or caste households, a development plan shall be prepared, in such a form as may be prescribed laying down the details of procedure for settling land rights (section 41 (4)).
- ✓ The development plan shall also contain a program for development of alternate ¹⁷Government of Assam, Orders by the Governor, Revenue and Disaster Management (LR) Department Notification of 1st of August 2015. The Assam Gazette Extraordinary, Dispur.

¹⁸Although the land acquisition related activities of the project began well before the enactment of the Act of 2013 by the Union Parliament and before the publication of the Rules of implementation of the Act of 2013 in the State of Assam, the Act 2013 applies in toto to the State of Assam and the autonomous district councils in the State of Assam listed in the Schedule VI of the Indian Constitution. This is because when no award under the section 11 of the 1894 [Land Acquisition] Act has been made, all provisions of the Act of 2013 relating to the determination of compensation shall apply to land acquisition proceedings initiated under the 1894 Act (Section 24 of the Act of 2013).

fuel, fodder or non-timber forest produce resources on non-forest lands within a period of five years, sufficient to meet the requirements of tribal communities (section 41(5)).

30. An important institutional benefit of the Act of 2013 is the appointment of a resettlement administrator to administer resettlement and rehabilitation of project-affected tribal persons. The process of land acquisition, resettlement, and rehabilitation will be supervised by a Commissioner appointed by the State Government. The Commissioner is assisted by a Rehabilitation and Resettlement Committee. The Commissioner is also responsible for post-implementation social audit in consultation with gram sabha or autonomous district councils (section 43).

4.6 International Social Safeguard Covenants

31. The United Nations is committed to support the Government of India's efforts towards greater inclusion of the scheduled castes and scheduled tribes in the development process. India is a signatory to the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, adopted by the United Nations General Assembly at its 61st session on 13 September 2007. The declaration sets an important standard for the treatment of tribal peoples, and is a significant tool towards eliminating human rights violations against them and assisting them in combating discrimination and marginalization. In this regard, India has also ratified core conventions and governance conventions including the Forced Labour Convention (no 29), Abolition of Forced Labour Convention (no. 105), Equal Remuneration Convention (No100), Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention (No 111), and International Labour Standards (No144).

32. The United Nations supports the Government of India's inclusive growth agenda as articulated in the 12th Five-Year Plan, and promotes ratification and adherence to the above conventions through creating awareness, building capacities of the constituents, advocacy, training and technical cooperation.

4.7 Safeguard Requirements of the Asian Development Bank

33. The Government of Assam through GOI plans to obtain a loan from ADB for the project. The ADB's resettlement and indigenous (tribal) peoples safeguard policies therefore apply to the project in addition to the local policy and legal framework and international covenants and Declarations outlined above.

4.7.1 Indigenous Peoples Safeguard Policy¹⁹ of ADB

34. The key objectives of the policy are to (a) ensure that the project, during its planning phase, pays attention to the project-affected tribal people's culture, identity, human rights, livelihood systems, and dignity; (b) encourage them to participate actively in the process of Project planning and implementation; and (c) avoid any adverse project impacts on them. The policy states that the safeguard policy requirements will be triggered, if a project directly or indirectly affects the dignity, human rights, livelihood systems, or culture of tribal peoples, or affects the territories or natural or cultural resources that they own, use, occupy, or claim as their ancestral domain. As SIA demonstrates, the project will affect the indigenous (tribal) peoples' identity, lands, and livelihood systems triggering the safeguards listed in the policy. The key policy principles are:

- ✓ Screen early on to determine (i) whether indigenous peoples are present in, or have collective attachment to, the project area; and (ii) whether project impacts on them are likely.
- ✓ Undertake a culturally appropriate and gender-sensitive social impact assessment or use similar methods to assess potential project impacts, both positive and adverse, on indigenous peoples. Give full consideration to options the affected indigenous people's prefer in relation to the provision of project benefits and the design of mitigation measures. Identify social and economic benefits for affected indigenous peoples that are culturally appropriate and gender and inter-generationally inclusive, and develop measures to avoid, minimize, and/or mitigate adverse impacts on indigenous peoples.
- ✓ Undertake meaningful consultations with affected indigenous people communities and concerned indigenous peoples' organizations to solicit their participation (i) in designing, implementing, and monitoring measures to avoid adverse impacts or, when avoidance is not possible, to minimize, mitigate, or compensate for such effects; and (ii) in tailoring project benefits for affected indigenous people communities in a culturally appropriate manner. To enhance indigenous peoples' active participation, projects affecting them will provide for culturally appropriate and gender inclusive capacity development. Establish a culturally appropriate and gender inclusive grievance mechanism to receive and facilitate resolution of the indigenous peoples' concerns.

¹⁹Indigenous Peoples' are referred to in different countries by such terms as indigenous ethnic minorities, indigenous cultural communities, aboriginals, hill tribes, minority nationalities, scheduled tribes, or tribal groups.' (ADB 2009:55). In India, the terms 'scheduled tribes' and 'tribal groups' are used to refer to its indigenous peoples.

- ✓ Ascertain the consent of affected indigenous peoples communities to the following project activities: (i) commercial development of the cultural resources and knowledge of indigenous peoples; (ii) physical displacement from traditional or customary lands; and (iii) commercial development of natural resources within the customary lands under use that would impact the livelihoods or the cultural, ceremonial, or spiritual uses that define the identity and community of indigenous peoples.
- ✓ Avoid to the maximum extent possible any restricted access to and physical displacement from protected areas and natural resources. Where avoidance is not possible, ensure that the affected indigenous peoples communities participate in the design, implementation, and monitoring and evaluation of management arrangements for such areas and natural resources and that their benefits are equitably shared.
- ✓ Prepare an indigenous peoples plan (IPP) that is based on the social impact assessment with the assistance of qualified and experienced experts and that draw on indigenous knowledge and participation by the affected indigenous peoples communities. The plan includes a framework for continued consultation with the affected indigenous peoples communities during project implementation; specifies measures to ensure that indigenous peoples receive culturally appropriate benefits; identifies measures to avoid, minimize, mitigate, or compensate for any adverse project impacts; and includes culturally appropriate grievance procedures, monitoring and evaluation arrangements; and a budget and time-bound actions for implementing the planned measures.
- ✓ Disclose a draft IPP, including documentation of the consultation process and the results of the social impact assessment in a timely manner, before project appraisal, in an accessible place and in a form and language(s) understandable to affected indigenous peoples' communities and other stakeholders. The final IPP and its updates will also be disclosed to the affected indigenous peoples' communities and other stakeholders.
- ✓ Prepare an action plan for legal recognition of customary rights to lands and territories or ancestral domains when the project involves (i) activities that are contingent on establishing legally recognized rights to lands and territories that indigenous peoples have traditionally owned or customarily used or occupied, or (ii) involuntary acquisition of such lands.
- ✓ Monitor implementation of the IPP using qualified and experienced experts; adopt a participatory monitoring approach, wherever possible; and assess whether the IPP's objective and desired outcome have been achieved, taking into account the baseline conditions and the results of IPP monitoring. Disclose monitoring reports.

4.7.2 Involuntary Resettlement

35. A combination of ADB's involuntary resettlement policy requirements with its indigenous peoples' policy and the local regulatory framework generates a robust and comprehensive policy and legal framework to safeguard the affected tribal peoples' interests and rights and also to ensure that they too benefit from the project. Involuntary resettlement safeguard policy gets triggered when persons and households lose land or access to land because of a project, and when a project limits their access to natural resources. In such situation, the ADB's involuntary resettlement safeguard policy prescribes several safeguards to avoid or at least to mitigate adverse project impacts. Among these are payments of fair compensation at replacement cost before displacement, relocation assistance, and restoration of income and livelihoods. The involuntary resettlement safeguard policy principles of ADB are:

- ✓ Screen the project early on to identify past, present and future involuntary resettlement impacts and risks. Determine the scope of resettlement planning through a survey and or census of displaced persons, including gender analysis, especially related to resettlement impacts and risks.
- ✓ Carry out meaningful consultations with APs, host communities, and concerned NGOs. Inform all displaced persons of their entitlements and resettlement options. Ensure their participation in planning, implementation and monitoring and evaluation of resettlement programs. Pay particular attention to the needs of vulnerable groups, especially those below the poverty line, the landless, the elderly, women and children, and indigenous peoples, and those without title to land and ensure their participation in consultations.

Establish a grievance redress mechanism to receive and facilitate resolution of the affected persons' concerns. Support the social and cultural institutions of displaced persons and their host population. Where involuntary resettlement impacts and risks are highly complex and sensitive, compensation and resettlement decisions should be preceded by a social preparation phase.

- ✓ Improve, or at least restore, the livelihoods of all displaced persons through (i) land-based resettlement strategies when affected livelihoods are land based, where possible, or cash compensation at replacement value for land when the loss of land does not undermine livelihoods, (ii) prompt replacement of assets with access to assets of equal or higher value, (iii) prompt compensation at full replacement cost for assets that cannot be restored; and (iv) additional revenue and services through benefit sharing schemes where possible.
- ✓ Provide physically and economically displaced persons with needed assistance, including the following: (i) if there is relocation, secured tenure to relocation land, better housing at resettlement sites with comparable access to employment and production opportunities, integration of resettled persons economically and socially into their host communities, and extension of project benefits to host communities; (ii) transitional support and development assistance such as land development, credit facilities, training, or employment opportunities, and (iii) civic infrastructure and community services, as required.
- ✓ Improve the standards of living of the displaced poor and other vulnerable groups, including women to at least national minimum standards. In rural areas, provide them with appropriate income sources and legal and affordable access to adequate housing.
- ✓ Develop procedures in a transparent, consistent, and equitable manner if land acquisition is through negotiated settlement to ensure that those people who enter into negotiated settlements will maintain the same or better income and livelihood status. Legally, the two ADCs can discontinue or refuse to renew current leaseholds of the APs, as they have lease hold interests over the land that they cultivate or use as homesteads.
- ✓ Ensure that displaced persons without land titles or any recognizable legal rights to land are eligible for resettlement assistance and compensation for loss of non-land assets.
- ✓ Prepare a resettlement plan elaborating on displaced persons' entitlements, the income and livelihood restoration strategy, institutional arrangement, monitoring and reporting framework, budget, and time-bound implementation schedule.
- ✓ Disclose the draft resettlement plan including the documentation of the consultation process in a timely manner, before project appraisal, in an accessible place and a form and languages understandable to affected persons and other stakeholders.

- ✓ Conceive and execute involuntary resettlement as part of a development project or program. Include the full cost of resettlement in the presentation of project's costs and benefits.
- ✓ Pay compensation and provide other settlement entitlements before physical or economic displacement.
- ✓ Monitor and access resettlement outcomes, their impacts on the standards of living of displaced persons, and whether the objectives of the resettlement plan have been achieved by taking into account the baseline conditions and the results of resettlement monitoring. Disclose monitoring reports.

4.8 Comparison – A Summary

36. Table 4.1 summarily compares and contrasts the local policy and legal framework and ADB's involuntary resettlement and indigenous peoples safeguard policy requirements and highlights gaps, if any, and to suggest remedies to address them. As the Table 40 shows, the Act of 2013 and the land acquisition procedures of the Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs match most of the safeguard policy requirements requirement of ADB. In case of the two issues where full congruence is not met, the entitlement matrix will provide actions to meet them fully. The two issues are: improvement of income and lively hoods of all APs, and the disclosure of the combined CRTDP on the web and in local languages. This CRTDP is prepared based on the Act of 2013 and ADB safeguard policy requirements and provides necessary actions to meet these safeguard requirements.

Improvement of toilet facilities 	APGCL, ADC, GOA	APGCL, ADC and GOA will consult PAPA and affected households in selecting the locations, planning, construction of facilities with PAPA and affected households.

5.3 Tribal Land Use Practices

8. Each household who cultivates or occupies a piece of land does so as a member of the village and with the permission of the gaon buras. Each village is occupied by one tribal group which is recognized by the ADC as a qualifying tribe to hold land in the village. The village headman supervises the village land use on behalf of the ADC. He shows them the land that they could cultivate or use as homesteads. Gaon bura is the administrative head of the village on behalf of the autonomous district council. The LKHP will be built in a 'non-cadastral' area. This means that there are no individual land records or tax estimates of land parcels. The gaon bura of each village community maintains information on land parcels that are given on lease hold.

9. Individuals or households do not own land in a village. In Dima Hasao ADC area, 88 percent of affected households engage themselves in jhum cultivation on land parcels obtained from the ADC on lease as non-patta land. For this arrangement, each household of the village community pays a regular tax to the gaon bura. Most of the affected patta land allotments (12 percent) are paddy land cultivated mostly under rain-fed conditions. A few land holdings seasonally draw water from the river to irrigate the land. In Karabi Anglong AD Care a, some of the affected lands are classified as 'plantations' where cash crops such as bananas are cultivated.

10. Patta lands are registered lease holds under the category of revenue and'. A patta holder cultivates and occupies a piece of land for a specific period of time, usually for five years which is renewable. All other holdings are non-*pattal*and, and they constitute dry land and village common land, where short-term jhum cultivation is done. In addition to the cultivated land, households obtain land from the gaon bura to build their dwellings and other structures. All such lands are controlled by the ADC with the help of the gaon bura. No outsider is allowed to clear a piece of land to cultivate or build a house on tribal land without ADC's permission. Occasionally, a relative of a resident may arrive in a village from outside to resettle. His acceptance is determined by the gaon bura, based on the facts - the visitor's tribe and its relationship with the village tribe, and their willingness to accept him as one of their own.

11. The rate of compensation for acquired housing, land and other assets will be calculated at full replacement costs. The calculation of full replacement cost will be based on fair market value, transaction costs, interest accrued, transitional and restoration costs, and other applicable payments, if any. Where market conditions are absent or in a formative stage, the borrower/client will consult with the displaced persons and host populations to obtain adequate information about recent land transactions, land value by types, land titles, land use, cropping patterns and crop production, availability of land in the project area and region, and other related information. The LKHP will be built in a 'non-cadastral' area where market conditions are absent, thus the replacement cost is based on consultation with displacement persons and host populations, current land use, and agreed compensation rate. The cash compensation is determined as per the replacement cost requirement as above. The new land lease contract is additional to this cash compensation and to be given following two ADCs' guidelines and regulations.

5.4 Tribal Land Acquisition Process

12. Acquisition of land for the public purpose of constructing LKHP is governed by the Assam state laws, national laws and regulations, and laws and rules of the Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs. There is a detailed process, approved by the ADCs, in transferring tribal land to an acquiring agency. These steps have been followed in acquiring land for the project.

13. The first step in acquiring land in a scheduled tribal area is to obtain a no-objection-certificate (NOC) from the relevant ADC. As far as possible, the state government avoids acquisition of land in scheduled areas. Where such acquisition is required, it is done only as the last resort (Section 41 of the Act of 2013). Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs have issued their NOCs regarding the acquisition of ADCs' land for the project, having considered APGCL's request for land for the project.

14. The second step is to issue notice through the Revenue Officer of the ADC and gaon buras regarding the land acquisition for a public purpose. Once noticed, the Revenue Officer, the gaon bura, the Government Department or the agency that has requested land for a public purpose, and the current land users or occupiers or their representatives meet at each potentially affected village for a joint 'spot verification' of land. During the joint spot verification, the land to be acquired for the project will be identified, and land holding patterns, village boundaries, its trees, crops, buildings, and other assets will be recorded. Such data and information will become the basis for compensation determination.

15. The third step in acquiring a non-patta land begins with the gaon bura issuing a 'no-objection certificate' (NOC) to each household to hold the land in the village. This is because such land falls into the 'non-cadastral' land category over which no land records or survey maps are available. The Revenue Officer of the ADC "allocates" a piece of village common land to each household, based on the current land use and on the no objection certificate 'issued by the gaon bura. Thus the "land user" becomes an "interested party" to the land, thereby becoming eligible to receive a compensation package for losing the interests in land for a public purpose.

16. The fourth step is consultations among the affected households, their representatives, ADC officials, gaon bura, AGPCL representatives, and the revenue officer to arrive at a fair compensation comprising land compensation and jirat of the affected property.

17. The fifth step is the Revenue Officer obtains the consent of the affected villagers in writing in the presence of the gaon bura and other land users with the NOC to hand over their landholding to the land requiring department or agency.

18. The sixth step is that the Revenue Officer with the help of the Land Record Officer drafts the 'bill of compensation' based on the joint spot verification, land measurements, records of the jirat values, individual consent of each land user to handover the land parcel, the estimates of land values as per the rates for land approved by the autonomous district council, and the rates approved by the Public Works Department (PWD) of Assam for civil structures and buildings.

19. The seventh step is to finalize the bills of compensation by the Revenue Officer of the ADC. These documents will be submitted to the competent authority – Executive Member of Revenue and the Deputy Commissioner of the ADC for approval.

20. The eighth step is that the executive member of revenue and the Deputy Commissioner after thorough scrutiny and examination, forward the bills of compensation to the Assam Government's Revenue and Disaster Management Department to sanction the total compensation amount. The department sanctions the amount and obtains the required funds from the land requiring agency and place the funds at the disposal of the deputy commissioner of the ADC for payment of land compensation and jirat to the affected persons.

21. The ninth step is the payment of compensation to each land user by an account payee check through the ADC and gaon bura.

22. The procedure of land acquisition from scheduled tribal communities outlined above meet the requirements of the local legal framework and international best practices in involuntary resettlement and indigenous peoples. The procedure upgrades common land users to the status of landowners, thereby qualifying them to receive cash compensation and relocation assistance and support for livelihood restoration and improvement. This generous arrangement of compensation payment encouraged the APs to oppose APGCL's proposal to reduce the area of land acquisition from the original estimates of required land area. They argued that they had agreed to handover their land to APGCL on the understanding that they would get cash compensation for the original amount of land. If there are any culturally important facilities found during the implementation, these will be relocated in a culturally appropriate manner and in consultation with the local communities. The project will support cost for culturally appropriate resettlement and compensation.

23. As all of the affected persons are scheduled tribe, project will require to ensure that the resettlement is done in a culturally appropriate manner and in close consultation with the people. Whereby benefits of improved industrialization and other social facilities such as school and health are ensured in a culturally appropriate and sensitive way and in consultation with the affected scheduled tribe communities. Also, improved mobility of the communities may result in outsider infiltration in the area as well as outmigration of the youth from the area. Thus, especially during construction, awareness campaign for cultural characteristic, transmittal disease, and trafficking activities will be undertaken considering the IP issues.

6. CONSULTATION, PARTICIPATION, AND INFORMATION DISCLOSURE

24. In acquiring land of an ADC for a public purpose, the SoA follows a two-tier consent-seeking consultation program. The first tier is obtaining the project-affected ADC's consent to transfer tribal land to a non-tribal purpose, that is, to build a hydroelectric project including a vast reservoir. The second-tier consultations aim at ascertaining the APs' views, expectations and consent for the proposed project.

6.1 First-tier Consultation

25. The Principal Secretary of the Dima Hasao ADC in a memo addressed to the Commissioner and Secretary, GOA, on 29 July 2015, indicated the ADC's provisional no-objection-certificate for the LKHP. The Principal Secretary of the Karbi Anglong autonomous district council wrote to the Chief General Manager (Hydro) APGCL on 15 September 2015 that to facilitate the construction of small, medium and large hydroelectric projects, the Executive Committee of Karbi Anglong Autonomous Council Authority had decided on 29 July 2015 to issue no object certificate (NOC) for the project.

6.2 Methods of Consultations

26. The consultation process has used different types of consultation such as in-depth interviews with key informants, focus group discussions, and individual consultations. As part of the consultation process and understanding of different gender perspectives on the proposed project, project-affected women were given an opportunity to voice their views on the project. They were also encouraged to (i) recommend actions that would ensure they too benefit from the Project; and (ii) suggest how to minimize harmful project impacts, if any, on them. Group level gender consultations were also carried out especially, to learn their views regarding income restoration, local area development including the development of health and education facilities in the Project area.

27. The project team comprising APGCL officials and its field staff, representatives of the Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong Autonomous District Councils, representatives of the Lower Kopili Hydroelectric Project's Affected Persons Associations (LKHPAPA) and the ADB staff participated in several local-level consultations with the potential APs in the villages that are identified as the potential affected areas of the proposed project. The number of participants in each such consultative meeting varied from 25 to 40 APs.

28. Three types of consultations have been conducted in the proposed project area during the past 7 years. The first is village visits and meetings with groups of APs by APGCL, GoA revenue officials, and the officials of the two ADCs. During these consultations, the officials informed the potential APs about the project, its impacts on their residence and livelihoods, resettlement and rehabilitation programmes, and the benefits that the project will deliver to them. The gaon bura played a critical role in organizing such meetings and coordinating discussions between the potential APs and GoA and ADC officials. The project planning team used these consultations to ascertain whether there is a broad community support for the project among the APs.

29. The second type of consultations was formal meetings held in Guwahati in which senior State Government officials, senior APGCL officials, and LKHPAPA representatives discussed the APs' demands and recommendations regarding displacement and rehabilitation, compensation packages, the area to be acquired for the project, and the CSR-CD programs. Usually, the LKHPAPA presented their views, demands, and recommendations in writing prior to the consultations. In several such consultations, especially those held in Guwahati, the Chief Minister, the Minister for Energy, and the Chief Secretary of the GOA also participated. The consultations were cordial and the minutes of the decisions were recorded. The signatures of those who attended were obtained. The matrix of project consultations given in Annex 1 presents the summaries of the issues discussed at various stakeholder consultations, and the results of such consultations (minutes are given as appendices 1–11 to the matrix in Annex1).

30. The third type of consultations was the discussions among the officials of the two ADCs, representatives of LKHPAPA, GOA and APGCL. These consultations focused on the extent of tribal land to be acquired for the proposed project, compensation packages, resettlement allowances, land acquisition and resettlement budget, the time frame of compensation payment, the possibility of allocating 05 percent of project revenue for project area development and to provide free electricity to the affected households, and the corporate social responsibility – community development (CSR-CD) schemes²⁷. The minutes of the meetings and consultations were signed by all participants.

6.3 Second Tier Consultation

31. The second-tier of consultation for handing over of tribal land for a non-tribal public purpose is the agreement among the affected households, APGCL, ADCs, and GOA²⁸. The objectives of the second-tier consent-seeking consultations program of the project are to: (i) ascertain the APs' views regarding the loss of tribal land that they cultivate and occupy to the project and the compensation packages offered; (ii) understand the APs' views on relocation options; (iii) understand gender perspectives on the perceived project impacts and varying expectations from the project; and (iv) ascertain whether there is a 'broad community support' among the affected tribal households for the Project.

32. Through a program of meaningful consultations, started early in the Project cycle, APGCL and ADCs informed the affected households and communities about the proposed project, their losses arising from land acquisition, their entitlements; compensation packages, and relocation and rehabilitation plans. From 2010, APGCL has been in continuous contact with the APs and their PAPA to obtain their consent to the proposed hydroelectric project and to inform them of the project impacts on their, especially land acquisition and physical displacement. APGCL in consultation with gaon buras met the APs and PAPA to discuss their worries, expectations. It also conducted formal and informal consultations with the two ADCs. Five formal public consultations were held where the APs from affected 14 villages, their gaon buras, PAPA, representatives of ADCs, GoA and APGCL participated. The latest consultation was held in January 2017 where more than 500 APs attended. The record of this public hearing is included in Appendix 1 of Annex 2. These two-way interactions and consultations between the project and government authorities and the APs provided adequate arena and opportunities for the APs and APGCL to make meaningful choices which, in turn, reduce the feeling of insecurity among the APs and the possibility that they might become hostile towards the Project.

6.4 Key Issues Discussed During Consultations

127. Compensation—The PAPA requested APGCL to pay adequate and fair compensation to all affected households according to their interests in the acquired properties. The PAPA pointed out that to ensure transparency and accountability, APGCL should pay full compensation to the APs under the supervision of PAPA. APGCL should pay compensation to each affected household by issuing an 'account payee' check.

²⁷Corporate social responsibility programmes will be implemented as a separate regional development project by APGCL with the 02 ADCs.

²⁸ADB staff and consultants joined several of these consultations from 2014.

128. Resettlement and Rehabilitation—APGCL should resettle all physically displaced households by providing alternative land and dwelling places. For this purpose, APGCL will allocate a suitable homestead for each physically displaced household at the resettlement site. The site will be at a location which is well connected by road transport and other communication networks. APGCL should also provide the resettlers adequate land to continue their traditional livelihoods, and adequate infrastructure facilities at the resettlement sites such as schools, dispensaries, markets, water and electricity. Traditionally, the APs have common worship places which are not village-specific. Such common worship places are not affected by the land acquisition for the Project.

129. Employment – APGCL should give the APs first preference in hiring project employees. If the APs possess the required qualifications and skills, outsiders should not be recruited to work at the project. Moreover, APGCL will train at least one person from each affected household in appropriate skills that would qualify them to find employment at the project sites and elsewhere.

130. Contract works and supplies - All small contract works and the supply of raw material which do not require high level technical competence and capital will be given to the PAPA and local people on priority basis.

131. Corporate Social Responsibilities Scheme - GoA through APGCL should introduce local development programs to provide play grounds, community halls and potable water facilities to all affected villages including the affected households, especially to those at the resettlement site. A project fund of five percent of the project's revenue and other financial contributions from APGCL should be established. The provision of electricity distribution to project affected households is one of the discussion points.

132. Roads, Bridges and Communication—The project should improve and rehabilitate local roads which are in a deplorable condition. Priority is to be given to the Lanka- Garampani Road, the road from Umrongso to khandong dam, the road from Umrongso to Haflong. A bridge over the river connecting two autonomous districts is necessary.

133. The above key issues have been the recurrent topics that have come up at various consultative meetings. The consent of the APs to handover their land and other property to the project are contingent upon the satisfactory implementation of the above key issues by APGCL, ADCs and GOA. As the matrixes below show that APGCL, ADCs, and GOA have agreed to address these key issues through goodfaith negotiations with the APs and their representatives. Details on Informal consultations by the project team related to consent seeking is attached in Annex-2. The formal consultations held in the project area in January 2017, recorded the broad community support for the project and the APs' satisfaction regarding GoA and ADCs confirmed agreement to address their issues discussed at the consultations (refer to Appendix 1 of Annexure 2 for the minutes and signatures). Based on these discussions the APs through their PAPA have given their consent to the construction of the Project and accepted the compensation packages and resettlement program.

6.5 Consultations Conducted by the Project Team

134. During the period between November 2014 and February 2017, the social and environmental safeguard consultants of the project team attended six public consultations organized by APGCL at the proposed project site (Table 5.1). APGCL officially notified all stakeholders regarding the place, time and the venue of such consultations. The photographs and attendance sheets of some of these consultations are given in annex 2. In these consultations, gaon buras, General Secretary, President and representatives of PAPA, President of the Assam Democratic Student union (NGO), General Secretary of the Karbi Student Union (NGO), representatives of the Dima Hasao ADC, officials of the Forest Department, and APGCL, and social and environment consultants of the project team participated.

They also supportive of APGCL's decision to hire local people for suitable employment at project sites. PAPA submitted their Memorandum of understanding which are recorded in provided in various sections of the Annexure 1 and 2)

6.6 Gender-related Consultations with the Project-affected Women

135. The project team conducted several gender-specific consultations with the project-affected women. Each consultation group became a culturally-appropriate focus group for consultations. This ensured that the representatives of the project-affected women are actively engaged and participated in public consultations on the project. The discussions covered the project objectives and scope, its potential environmental and social impacts, including land acquisition, resettlement, and the design of livelihood support measures. During these discussions, information was gathered on the role of women, their economic activities, division of labour at the household level, time spent in collecting firewood and water, and their role in decision making at the household level. The consultations also focused on the possibility of the generation of durable employment for them in the project area, and specific income restoration and improvement measures. Gender consultations were carried out at 6 project-affected villages, namely, Dima Longku, Boro Lonku, karbin langso, Krungming Langso, Digramhdisa and Toto langsho in March 2016. 71 women attended the gender-specific consultations. The major outcome of consultations is presented in Table 5.2. Most of the women focus on income rehabilitation measures by the Project as their core expectations. The CRTDP and its entitlement provide various income restoration and rehabilitation measures and women will be given priority during the implementation and the implementing NGO will identify such women group for skilled training etc. The attendance sheet and photographs of consultations are given at Annex 3.

136. The project is effective gender mainstreaming (EGM) category and gender action plan (GAP) has been prepared considering the gender consultations and outcomes.

This money is used to provide loans to the group members when they need money for children's education and medical expenses. • The SHGs are managed by their women members. They suggested that in order to improve the capital-based SHGs, the project may provide one-time payment to each SHG, thereby enabling it to buy the capital assets such as sewing machines, handloom machines, pigs, goats, and cows. This will help them to improve their livelihoods. This will also help them to engage in sustainable employments. • The groups also suggested that skill-based training programs for young girls will help household income generation activities. • They pointed out that it is necessary to train the group members in book keeping, financial management, and marketing. • They stressed the importance of focusing on local resources such as bamboo and timber in vocational training programs. With such training they can earn income from bamboo-based product, wood-craving product, and local traditional garment production. • SHGs need financial assistance to develop animal husbandry- beekeeping, poultry farming piggery, dairy farming - as an income generating activity. Animal husbandry is a key livelihood that women groups could easily start, provided training and capital assistance are available. A training center-cum-community hall at a location accessible to them in the project area would be the first step in developing such a program. APGCL will have to allocate some initial funds for this purpose. • There is a high rate of drop out among young girls from schools, especially from high school classes (up-to XII). There is a high school in Umransu, and students come from faraway places to attend the school. The project should consider the construction of another high school to help students especially girls in remote areas of the project to continue their studies. • The project should also help establishing a scholarship program for girls who complete their primary education to

In summer, ring -wells dry up. As a result, women walk 3 to 4 kms every day to fetch water. The Project can provide a piped water supply facility as a part of the village development program. • Water-borne and vector-borne diseases such as diarrhoea, malaria, and jaundice harm villagers frequently. Medical facilities such as hospitals and dispensaries are located far away from their villages. A sick person has to travel 10-12 kms to get medical assistance. Sometimes, medicine is not available at such medical centres. Therefore, the project could build a base hospital for the benefit of the APs and others in the area. • The reservoir and other project components will acquire land where they collect firewood and jungle products. Therefore, the project authorities should allow access for them to the Remaining forest areas to collect firewood and forest products.

6.7 Consultations with the Physically Displaced Persons

137. A social impact assessment was conducted with 15 households (of the total 18 households) in the Dima langku village who will be physically displaced by the project. APGCL and ADB consultants conducted a detailed consultation on March 6, 2016 with 8 households in Dima lanku village in order to assess their views on and the requirements for resettlement and income rehabilitation. A summary of discussions and outcome of the consultation is given in Table 5.3. The consultation attendance sheet is given in Annex 4.

6.8 Consultations among Stakeholders at APGCL Corporateoffice

138. A meeting was convened by APGCL with NC Hills Autonomous Council, Affected Persons Association of Lower Kopili Hydro Project (LKHP), Village Head Man of Affected villages in Presence of ADB staff consultant in the conference Hall of Bijulee Bhawan at Paltan Bazat in Guwahati on 23th March 2018. The objective of the meeting was to discuss about the pre-implementation plan of the CRTDP and to make the people aware about further dissemination and disclosure process. The meeting aimed at providing opportunities to the representatives of the affected people to put forth their views on any outstanding issues related to CRTDP implementation. Discussions were also held on the issues related to actual land owner verification so that the actual APs get the compensation. The representatives of APs expected regular update on the development of CRTDP implementation to which APGCL has agreed. Minutes of the meetings are attached in Annex5.

6.9 Public Consultations During Dissemination and Disclosure of CRTDP Leaflet

139. Public consultations were held during dissemination and distribution of CRTDP leaflet at project site on 21-04-2018. A copy of leaflet is attached in Annex 6. List of recipients of leaflet as representatives from various affected villages are attached in Appendix 1 of Annex 6. Following the dissemination of leaflet, a consultation meeting was held at Project site on 28 April 2018. Minutes of the meetings and list of participants in the disclosure meeting are attached in Annex 7.

6.10 Broad Community Support

140. ADB stipulates that a project authority should obtain the broad community support (BCS) of the affected indigenous/tribal peoples at each stage of the project. The key three project activities that could trigger the need for BCS are: "(i)commercial development of the cultural resources and knowledge of Indigenous Peoples; (ii) physical displacement from traditional or customary lands; and (iii) commercial development of natural resources within customary lands under use that would impact the livelihoods or the cultural, ceremonial, or spiritual uses that define the identity and community of indigenous peoples" (SPS 2009:60). APGCL is responsible for planning of consent-seeking consultative programs. It has informed affected local communities and other stakeholders about the project concept and design, its scope, and the need for acquiring tribal land and other common resources for the project. The definition of BCS is consent of affected Indigenous peoples' communities refers to a collective expression by the affected Indigenous Peoples communities, through individuals and/or their recognized representatives, of broad community support for the project activities. Such broad community support may exist even if some individuals or groups object to the project activities (SPS2009:60).

141. The consultations with the affected persons and communities were largely guided by the following guidelines:

- (a) Deliver accurate, free and timely information, manage expectations, and promote widespread awareness of the project;

(b) Facilitate two-way communication with communities and persons directly affected by the project to:

- Understand the views and opinions of the communities including vulnerable, social and cultural groups regarding ways in which the project may affect them;
- How these impacts can be mitigated, and the ways in which the project can provide project benefits to the APs and affected communities and the region;
- Ascertain the level of broad community support for the project at all phases of project planning from all categories of APs;
- Ensure those being resettled by the Project have ample avenues to participate in resettlement planning and implementation; and
- Address the APs' concerns in a timely manner.

142. With respect to 'free' consent, consultations and discussions undertaken in the Project area by GOA, APGCL and ADCs since 2008 indicate that there has been no coercion or intimidation or payment of bribery or inducement to affected persons to engage them in consent-seeking meetings. Conversely, the APs and their representatives had demanded better compensation packages and livelihood development assistance and APGCL, ADCs and GOA agreed. They also demanded that APGCL should acquire the land identified in 2008 for the project, and opposed subsequent technical proposals to reduce the scope of land acquisition of the project.

143. The additional District Magistrate, Chief Environmental Engineers of the Pollution Central Board, the APs, and the representatives of PAPA, several NGOs including Assam Democratic Student Union, Karbi Student Union, Rural Development and Rural Upliftment organization attended the public hearing meeting organized by APGCL on 10 January 2017 at Longku Project site (annex 2 and appendix 1 of annex 2). The public gathering declared their 'broad community support' for the project. The confirmed minutes of the public hearing states that:

- The additional District Magistrate, Dima Hasao said that all the grievances raised by the public will be fulfilled by APGCL Authority. He also asked APGCL Authority to follow all the norms during and after proposed Project. The people supported his suggestion by clapping hands.
- Considering the ecological, technical, scientific and socioeconomic aspects related to the proposed 'Lower Kopili Hydro-Electric Power Project' of APGCL and taking into consideration of opinion and suggestion made by the public present in the public hearing held on 10th January 2017, it is unanimously resolved to allow APGCL to take up the proposed 'Lower Kopili Hydro-Electric Power Project' incorporating all pollution control measures, proposed by the project proponent and to comply with the provision of all existing environmental laws. The people supported the "Lower Kopili Hydro-Electric Power Project of APGCL"

144. The records at APGCL, ADCs, and PAPA, field observations, explicit comments of participants at village community workshops, during SIA surveys, and at public consultations confirm that:

- There is a broad support among local communities for the project, and there is no clear direct opposition to it. At the initial phase of the project planning, a few tribal leaders objected to land identification process; but later, they all supported the project and participated in the consultation programs. The public consultation meeting held on 10 January 2017 clearly demonstrated that the APs and their PAPA fully support the project and the project authorities including ADCs, APGCL and GoA agreed to address the requests of the PAPA.

- Communities in the project area widely perceive hydroelectricity development as the most preferred development opportunity for them from which they all can benefit;
- Community concerns about the project were generally confined to the mitigation of potential adverse impacts and securing of better benefits for them and the region;
- A high level of participation of community members of all genders and ages have been encouraged in consultations and negotiations;
- There is wide-spread understanding of the purpose of the project, and what it generally involves among the potential APs;
- There is a high degree of trust among the APs and PAPA that APGCL will listen to local peoples' concerns and deal with them efficiently; and
- There has been considerable discussion within the affected communities about the project, including its benefits and potential impacts.

6.11 Disclosure of Information on Land Acquisition, Compensation and Resettlement

145. APGCL has already distributed land acquisition, compensation and resettlement information among the APs. It will continue to disseminate resettlement information in a timely manner at accessible places in a form and language that they can understand. Resettlement information – measurement of losses, detailed asset valuations, entitlements and special provisions for tribal peoples, grievance redress procedures, timetable for cash compensation payment, physical displacement schedule, and resettlement site construction schedule - will be disseminated by APGCL among all the APs in brochures, leaflets, and booklets written in local languages. For non-literate people, other communication methods such as small group discussions and posters will be used to disseminate resettlement information. Summary of draft CRTDP containing the coresections such as eligibility and entitlement matrix has been translated in to local language (Assamese) and has been distributed at project site in 2018 (Annexure-6 provides copy of leaflet in English and Annexure-7 provides minutes of minutes and list of participants during disclosure)

146. CRTDP will be made available at relevant local government offices, Project office and key locations of the project site before the project appraisal is completed. In addition, a summary CRTDP will be made available in local languages for all APs and stakeholders. CRTDP will be disclosed on the websites of the two ADCs, APGCL and ADB before project appraisal. The revised and final CRTDP will also be disclosed on the same websites. Information dissemination and consultations with the APs and other stakeholders will continue throughout project preparation and implementation phases.

147. CRTDP will be implemented in consultation with the Project stakeholders, particularly, with the APs through focus group discussions and stakeholder consultation meetings. Women's participation will be ensured by involving them in public consultations at various stages of Project preparation and implementation, and by arrangements which would enhance their ability to attend such meetings.

148. APGCL will upload the following social safeguard planning documents on its website. It will also submit to ADB the social safeguard planning documents for disclosure on ADB's website:

- (i) Draft CRTDP before project appraisal;
- (ii) Revised updated CRTDP after the completion of detailed design of the Project
- (iii) An updated CRTDP or a Corrective Action Plan (CAP), if any, prepared during Project implementation; and
- (iv) Resettlement monitoring reports

149. A public consultation and disclosure plan will be formulated and used by the project management unit (PMU) of the project. A draft plan is given in Table 5.4. Additionally, a stakeholder communication strategy (SCS) has been prepared for the project.

7. INSTITUTIONAL ARRANGEMENTS

150. The Department of Energy of GOA will coordinate all project activities at the state level. APGCL is the executive agency (EA) of the project. It has already established a Project Management Unit (PMU). The implementing Agency (IA) of the project is also APGCL. APGCL and the NGO contracted for safeguard implementation will be responsible for the application of environmental and social safeguards to the project closely following CRTDP,

7.1 Appointment of Administrator at State Level

151. State Government of Assam appoints an officer not below the rank of Joint Collector or Additional Collector or Deputy Collector or equivalent official of Revenue Department, who will be responsible for the implementation of CRTDP (R&R Plan) at the State Level. This has already been established and a copy of the government order to this is attached in Annex 8.

152. Administrator shall, to function efficiently and to meet the time-frame of CRTDP, be provided with such powers, duties and responsibilities as may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. Administrator will also be provided with office infrastructure, and be assisted by officers and employees appointed by the appropriate Government.

153. Subject to the superintendence, directions and control of the Appropriate Government and the Commissioner for Rehabilitation and Resettlement, the formulation, execution and monitoring of the Rehabilitation and Resettlement Scheme shall vest with the Administrator.

7.2 Commissioner for rehabilitation and Resettlement

154. The state government shall appoint an officer of the rank of commissioner or secretary of that government for resettlement and rehabilitation of affected households under the Act of 2013. The will be called the commissioner for rehabilitation and resettlement. The Commissioner shall be responsible for supervising the formulation of rehabilitation and resettlement schemes or plans and proper implementation of each schemes or plans. The Commissioner shall be responsible for the post implementation social audit in consultation with the Gram Sabha in rural areas and municipality in the urban areas.

7.3 The Project Management Unit

155. APGCL and its PMU will work closely with the administrator and commissioner and get the necessary the directions from them. PMU will send all documentation to the administrator and commissioner for approval and guidance. PMU will be responsible for day-to-day implementation and monitoring of the project including CRTDP. It covers all aspects of the project construction including compliance with safeguard requirements. APGCL has appointed a full-time project director to head the PMU. Administrative staff, project engineers, financial officers, the social and environmental safeguard cell, and the communication unit will assist the Director. APGCL has already established the PMU with designated staff on social and environment safeguards on a full-time basis.

7.4 Project Management Consultants

156. APGCL has recruited the project management consultants (PMCs) to implement the project. In relation to safeguard compliance, the following actions will be completed by PMCs:
(a) update the socioeconomic surveys of all affected households/APs with assistance from implementing NGO and update the draft CRTDP, (b) design an environmental and social management system with regard to the implementation of CRTDP and other safeguard planning instruments; (c) establish a framework with monitoring indicators for safeguard performance monitoring; (d) update socioeconomic baseline information and include baseline information from the upstream of the reservoir and downstream of the tailrace and the Kopili River ecosystem; (e) undertake field studies to fill in identified gaps in socioeconomic databases; and confirm and update monitoring indicators on land acquisition, compensation payment, income restoration and rehabilitation, and resettlement activities; and (f) ensure the management plans prepared by the Project contractors are compliant with the ESMS. PMCs prepare monthly progress reports on progress of CRTDP implementation and will ensure compliance in consultation with the Social and Environmental Safeguard Cell (SESC) on social, resettlement, and environmental aspects of the project including the progress in redressing APs' grievances and complaints. PMC safeguards specialists will prepare the semi-annual monitoring report and will submit to PMU and PMU will submit it to ADB.

7.5 Social and Environmental Safeguards Cell at PMU

157. PMU has already a dedicated social and environmental safeguards cell (SESC) with a qualified full-time environment specialist and a full time qualified social safeguard specialist. The SESC will keep close contacts with head of PMU of APGCL regarding safeguard application and its progress. SESC is in charge of coordination, preparation, implementation, and monitoring of the approved CRTDP. It will assist PMCs to develop an environmental and social management system, and APGCL in updating and implementing CRTDP. The SESC will work with PMCs for overall management of social and environmental safeguards application. SESC facilitates land acquisition and compensation, relocation and resettlement, distribution of assistance to the APs and supervision of income restoration and rehabilitation programs of the project. It will also be responsible for monitoring the implementation of all resettlement and rehabilitation activities, including land acquisition and compensation. The responsibilities of SESC include:

- ✓ responsible for all land acquisition activities and keeping records of land acquired, compensation paid, and when land was physically taken over for the Project;
- ✓ liaison with the State and District levels departments and agencies to facilitate the APs' access to services and income generating programs that are already in place;
- ✓ coordinate the delivery of cash compensation and resettlement assistance to all entitled persons;
- ✓ provide social development perspectives and inputs to on-going project design and implementation by working closely with project planners, contractors, and construction supervision consultants;
- ✓ link the project with State government agencies, PWD field units and the impacted communities,
- ✓ coordinate with the two ADCs regarding social development and resettlement operations; and support the NGO contracted and local community organisations such as PAPA who representing the APs; and
- ✓ engage skill training services, oversee the grievance redress mechanism, monitor CRTDP implementation, and cooperate with planned project evaluations.
- ✓ If a panel of experts (POE) is appointed during project implementation, facilitate its monitoring and evaluation programs.

7.6 Implementation Support -NGO

158. APGCL will hire an NGO to support updating of CRTDP, and to implement it. The NGO will provide day-to-day implementation support to APGCL in addressing safeguard issues at the field level. The role of the NGO focuses on three activities (i) collection of additional baseline information from surveys, if required after the detailed design and final layout of the project is completed; (ii) assist PMU to implement CRTDP as per its entitlement matrix, distribution of identification cards to the APs, disbursement of entitlements including compensation, and allowances to eligible APs as per CRTDP; and (iii) raising awareness among the APs, and dissemination of project information relating to land acquisition, compensation and resettlement planning and APs' entitlements. The NGO will also facilitate the APs to submit the grievance applications (if any) to be resolved within the framework of Project's GRM. The resettlement officer of SESC will supervise the NGO. The NGO will work as a link between the APs, PMU, and the affected community. It will educate the APs on income restoration and improvement measures, and ensures that the APs use cash compensation packages in productive investments. Broad objectives of the NGO are:

- ✓ Identification, verification and updating of AP Census based on the final list and final design for updating the CRTDP.
- ✓ Develop micro plans in consultation with the APs and PMU staff.
- ✓ Educate the APs on their entitlements, and obligations.
- ✓ Prepare and distribute Project Identity Cards. All eligible project affected households will be given Identity Cards.
- ✓ Ensure that the APs receive their entitlements. The NGO will provide advice to APs on benefits of various income restoration options and assist them in getting benefits from various government development programs;
- ✓ The NGO will help the affected households to derive maximum benefits from the project without losing their livelihoods and with least impacts on sociocultural aspects of their lives.
- ✓ Assist the APs to use the GRM.
- ✓ Assist PMU in relocating the 18 affected households.

159. The NGO staff will be stationed at the project site. The NGO will regularly update the baseline information through group meetings and village-level meetings. Such meetings will be the arena to consult the APs and to inform about the project's progress and the delivery of their entitlements. The frequency of such meetings will depend on the requirements of the APs; however, at least once a month, the resettled households will be met by the NGO and relevant support agencies. In case of other APs, NGO will arrange quarterly meetings in different locations to disseminate project information and to learn about their grievances and complaints. An indicative TOR of the NGO is in Annex 9. Key activities in establishing a robust grassroots level institutional set up to facilitate the implementation of CRTDP is given below (Table 6.1).

7.7 Database Management

160. A census database has been created by the two ADCs and the project consultants. This database will be transferred to SESC at PMU for upgrading and for further use. The database will assist to: (i) track the progress of the CRTDP implementation; (ii) reviewer revise the entitlements to be paid to APs;³⁰ (iii) track unpaid entitlements to the APs and expedite payments; (iv) generate information and data for periodical reports and other project requirements; and (v) establish data input formats. SESC will hire database management consultants for the management, monitoring, and updating of the safeguard information and data.

7.8 Capacity Building and Training

The capacity building training for PMU/SESC staff will be organized by APGCL and ADB. Training will cover techniques in conducting participatory rural appraisal for micro-planning, conducting socioeconomic surveys, dissemination of information, community consultation and progress monitoring and evaluation. In-house training will be conducted by professionals identified by PMU. Local institutes such as the Indian Institute of Management, Institute for Social and Economic Change, and safeguard consultants will be identified by APGC (Table6.2).

Field Officers/ Contractors	Measurement of structures affected and their valuation procedures; resettlement site development, preparation of land acquisition and resettlement plans, compensation disbursement methods; identification and transfer of common property resources to the project.

³⁰ The project will not reduce or lower the approved entitlements of the APs. The project could subsequently improve the entitlements of the APs. Such changes will be recorded and send to ADB for review and approval.

8. GRIEVANCE REDRESS MECHANISM

161. APGCL will institute a transparent and time-bound grievance redress mechanism (GRM) to receive and resolve the APs' grievances and complaints, if any, on the delivery of their entitlements, in particular, and Project impacts on them, in general. APGCL will determine whether a common GRM is sufficient to handle resettlement and environmental complaints and grievances of the APs or two separate GRMs are needed in the context of the project. The GRM will be established before the physical takeover of the land from the affected households.

162. GRM is an accessible and trusted platform for all the APs to seek solutions and relief for their project-related problems and grievances, without resorting to lengthy and costly judicial process. The GRM will not deal with matters pending in a court of law. Its success and legitimacy will depend on the APs' capacity for consultations and desire to resolve grievances through discussion and negotiation. They have already well demonstrated their capabilities on both grounds. The EA will ensure that the APs and the line agencies that participate in project activities understand the role and functions of GRM of the project in resolving problems and grievances pertaining to land acquisition, compensation, relocation, and income and livelihood restoration and improvement. Before project activities commence, a program of publicity to the GRM will be given by APGCL.

8.1 Grievance Redress Process

163. A three-tier grievance redress mechanism has already been notified for handling grievances. The first tier is the grassroots level mechanism. Grievances of the APs are first dealt with by gaon buras in consultation with the field officials, and the contractors of the project. Complaints that cannot be addressed at the level of gaon buras will be forwarded to the Project-level grievance redress committee (GRC) which is the second tier. The third tier is the appellate GRC at the state level. APGCL will deal with the complaints and grievances as the appellate GRC. The presence of GRM or seeking relief from GRM is not a bar to take grievances and complaints to national courts for arbitration.

8.1.1 First-Tier GRC

164. Grievances and complaints that need immediate attention can be directed to the gaon bura or a project officer who is in the area. These on-site personnel are the accessible first level contacts for a grieved party to obtain a prompt resolution to a grievance or a complaint. Contact phone numbers, addresses, and names of the gaon buras and field level project officials, and project contractors will be displayed at all construction site offices and public places in the project area. Registers for recording complaints and grievance will be available with gaon buras and field officials. They will be trained by the SESC on how to record grievances and complaints, and how to arbitrate and solve them. (see annex 13 for a sample template). They are required to resolve an issue within 7 days from the receipt of a complaint or grievance. Records of grievances received at field level will be sent once a month to SESC at PMU enabling the tracking of the progress in grievance redress mechanism.

8.1.2 Second-Tier GRC

165. GRC at the project level will address the APs' complaints and grievances promptly, using a transparent process which is gender responsive, culturally appropriate, and readily accessible to all segments of the APs, at no costs and without retribution. It will be chaired by the project director or his/her representative. The safeguard consultants of the SESC, an administrative officer, concerned engineers, contractors, representative from PAPA of Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong Districts, at least one women representative, and district officials will also take part in GRC meetings. GRC will have a secretary. It could call land surveyors, gaon buras of the project area, and representatives of project-related agencies to participate in GRC meetings.

166. The secretary will receive complaints and grievances. A record of each complaint or grievance will be kept at the project office. At this level, each grievance or complaint will be resolved within 15 days from the date of its registration. The decisions of the GRC will be conveyed in writing to the APs who sought relief through gaon Buras.

8.1.3 Third-Tier GRC

167. If the GRC at the project-level considers the grievance or the complaint is beyond its jurisdiction, or it cannot resolve the complaint, PMU will refer it to APGCL, the third tier GRC located in Guwahati for resolution or relief. APGCL will attempt to resolve grievances within 30 days from date of receipt of a complaint or grievance. The Appellate GRC at APGCL will be chaired by the Deputy General Manager (Hydro). The other members of GRC are the representatives of the Revenue Department, ADCs, Survey Department, and PAPA and gaon buras. GRC hear the complaint or the grievance and provides its decision to the aggrieved party in 30 days from the registration of the complaint. The decision of the GRC is communicated in writing through gaonburas.

8.2 Other Avenues to Redress Grievances

168. There are three other supplementary avenues that are opened for the APs to resolve their problems, complaints, and grievances with regard to the project and its implementation.

8.2.1 ADB India Resident Mission in New Delhi

169. An aggrieved party can directly contact ADB's resident mission in New Delhi regarding a grievance or problem that GRM has failed to resolve. The party in writing informs the resident mission and initiates a good faith negotiation to solve the problem by working with the concerned resident mission's specialists and, if necessary, with ADB's South Asia Regional Department in Manila. The aggrieved party can use English or any local language to send the complaint to the resident mission or to the regional department, and the arbitration can be done in the preferred language of the aggrieved party.

8.2.2 ADB Accountability Mechanism

170. The affected party can use the ADB's Accountability Mechanism³¹ by writing to the Complaint Receiving Officer at the ADB Headquarters in Manila. The Accountability Mechanism has two arms: the first is the Office of the Special Project Facilitator. The facilitator deals with the complaints with the help of the project personnel and the aggrieved party through a consultative process; the second arm of the Accountability Mechanism deals with the complaints against ADB regarding its failure to abide by its own safeguard policy requirements. Information on the ADB Accountability Mechanism will be included in the project information kit to be distributed among the affected communities as a part of the project GRM.

³¹ Complaint Receiving Officer (CRO), Accountability Mechanism, Asian Development Bank ADB Headquarters, 6 ADB Avenue, Mandaluyong City 1550, Metro Manila, Philippines (+632) 632-4444 loc. 70309 (+632) 636 2086 amcro@adb.org Alternatively, a complaint may be submitted to the India's ADB resident mission, and it will forward the complaint to the CRO in Manila.

8.2.3 India's Courts System

171. If the GRM of the project cannot resolve a grievance or the aggrieved party feels that it has not received a fair hearing or award, the party can access the country's court system for relief at any stage of the deliberations in GRCs. In such an event, the GRC immediately terminates its hearing.

8.3 GRC Record-Keeping

172. Records of all grievances received, including contact details of the complainants, dates the complaints received, nature of grievances, agreed corrective actions and when they were implemented, and the final outcome are recorded and kept in the project office. The number of grievances recorded and resolved and the outcomes will be displayed/disclosed at the project office, APGCL Office in Guwahati, and on APGCL website. A summary of this information will be included in the monthly progress report of NGOs and semi-annual safeguard monitoring reports submitted to ADB. All GRC meeting deliberations and decisions will be recorded and will be available for public reference. If ADB involves in grievance resolution, it will maintain records of its proceedings and disclose them to all parties engaged in the hearings.

8.4 GRM Costs

173. All costs incurred in GRC meetings, consultations, communication and reporting/information dissemination will be borne by PMU. Cost estimates for grievance redress are included in resettlement cost estimates. ADB will bear the cost of its own involvement in grievance resolution. The complainants are not charged any fee for the service. It is a good practice to provide the APs with transport facilities to the project offices or cash payment for such expenses by the project, if feasible.

8.5 Meetings of GRCs

174. The GRCs will meet according to a published timetable. This information will be disseminated among all the APs, ADCs, and PAPA. Each session/meeting will be held at a place which is convenient for the APs to attend. The GRC procedures will be communicated through public notices and at the community meetings. The APs will be made aware of the presence of GRM, its powers, and benefits during consultations and group discussions. At such gatherings, the APs will be encouraged to discuss their views on the structure and functions of GRM.

9. RELOCATION AND RESETTLEMENT

175. APGCL will provide physically displaced households adequate and appropriate replacement land, housing, and other amenities, or cash compensation in lieu of, in addition to other assistance listed in the entitlement matrix. No affected household will be physically displaced before providing a dwelling place with the normal facilities at the resettlement site. If there is a delay in constructing a dwelling, APGCL will give sufficient cash to the displaced household to lease a house for a few months or arrange transit accommodation with all facilities such as water supply, electricity, and a toilet. The project will directly affect 1,831 households of which 18 are physically displaced. Their settlement site was identified during the detailed Project survey and 5 ha have been allocated for the resettlement site in the Project area.

176. The 'land-for-land' option will be applied to relocation of the affected households, as there are adequate lands of equal quality to the lost land in the project area to distribute among the physically displaced 18 households. All 18 physically displaced households are poor and vulnerable households, and prefer to move to a new house at a resettlement site built by APGCL. They require special assistance in relocation, restoration and improvement of their livelihoods at the resettlement site.

177. The provision of 'land-for-land' to the physically displaced households is in addition to the land compensation paid for land losses at their original communities. The land compensation is based on cash compensation rates agreed among APGCL, respective ADCs, and LEKHPAPA. In 2012, the ADCs provided their land value assessments to APGCL. These estimates were revised in 2014, and necessary adjustments were made to update them.

9.1 Basic Entitlements of a Physically Relocated Household

178. A relocated household is entitled to the following assistance, based on the Act of 2013:

- A resettlement allowance of ₹50,000;
- A dwelling house per affected household as per the Pradhan Mantri Awaas Yojana – Gramin specifications constructed by the project;
- A transportation allowance of ₹50,000;
- A monthly subsistence allowance of ₹3,000 for 12 months;
- A special ST subsistence allowance of ₹50,000 per household;
- Replacement cost of each acquired house and structure, based on PWD's latest schedule of rates (SOR), if the structure is fully or partially affected;
- Compensation for homestead land and cultivated land will be calculated as per the process followed for agricultural land mentioned in the policy framework section of this plan;
- APGCL will in consultation with the APs construct a new resettlement colony which will include (i) developed land plots each of which is 150 sq metres in area; (ii) basic amenities such as access to roads, electricity, storm water drains, drinking water, and sanitation facilities, common land including grazing land, playground;

- Any community property that will be affected by the project will be replaced by APGCL before the demolition or acquisition of such properties. In case of grazing land, APGCL will provide access roads to grazing land in the area;
- Each physically relocated household will get 100 days of minimum assured wages (MAW) per year for a period of 05 years as a grant towards the loss of fuel and fodder, if sufficient fuel and fodder resources are not made available in the resettlement site or its vicinity;
- At least one adult in affected households will get employment at the project or at another project or ₹500,000 as a lump sum one-time payment for the household, or annuity not less than ₹2000 per month for 20 years, with appropriate indexation to the consumer price index for agricultural laborers; and
- APs will be included as entitled persons to receive income generation assistance from the national and state income generation schemes (see section on income restoration and rehabilitation for details).

9.2 Development of Resettlement Colony

179. The resettlement colony provides new residences to the displaced households. APGCL together with the NGO contracted will demarcate the site as it has already been identified and presented in final DPR report. The layout planning and development of infrastructure facilities will be done in consultation with Dima Hasao ADC. The location plan of the resettlement site, as presented in DPR, is given at Annex 10 and photograph of typical houses to be displaced are shown in Annex 11.

180. The resettlement site will be located in a safety zone and within the vicinity of the Dima Lagshu village. The relocation site is part of the acquired land for the project. As per focused group discussions held with the displaced villagers, the APs do not have any objection to the choosing of the resettlement site close to submerged village. Because of the short distance that they will move from their original village, they can continue to maintain their social networks in the area and to preserve their cultural identity. Of the total land area of 5,000 sq mt of the resettlement site, about 50% of the area will be the built-up area, and a substantial amount of land (2,500 sq mt) will be allocated for several other purposes (Table 8.1):

Table 9.1: Land Distribution for Relocation Colony

Land Use	Percentage of the Total Area
Housing plots	50
Roads	20
Common Open Spaces	10
Community space	10
Commercial Use	05
Contingency	05

181. Based on this indicative space allocation at the resettlement site, a model plan has been designed keeping in mind the local cultural needs. The design of the houses will closely follow local cultural requirements and local designs. Photographs of typical houses of the APs are given in annex 15. The resettlement houses are constructed before the physical resettlement. The cultural and tradition practices/requirements are to be followed during the resettlement.

9.3 Housing Society

182. The land for the resettlement site is proposed to be registered in the name of the 'Housing society' comprising members: 6 from the APs, 2 from Dima Hasao ADC, 1 from APGCL, and 1 from LKHPAPA. The project will transfer the ownership rights over the resettlement site and houses to resettlers.

9.4 Distribution of LandPlots

183. Landplotsattheresettlementsiteswillbedistributedas'clusters'.Eachclusterisallotted to a group of resettlers who would like to live as neighbors. Each household will sign an undertaking to abide by the by-laws, rules and regulations of the housing society. No household will be allowed to sell the land or the house for a 10-year period. After ten years, transfer or sale of the property can be done with the approval of the housing society, and after paying a fixed amount of money to the society as per the society rules.

184. The construction of houses at the relocation site will be done by a civil contractor under the supervision of the Housing Society and project engineers. APGCL will bear the full cost of house construction³².The NGO will support the affected households to negotiate with the contractors the final layout of houses, and on the purchase of materials and the mode of toilets.

9.5 Role and Responsibilities of APGCL for Relocation

185. PMC services under the supervision of APGCL will conduct/prepare the following activities:

- ✓ Conduct of contour survey,
- ✓ Preparation of layout plans,
- ✓ Submission and approval of layout plan.
- ✓ Planning and design of infrastructure facilities such as water supply, sanitation, streetlighting,roadsanddrainage,communityfacilitiesasperthelayoutplanand based on the suitability of infrastructure options.
- ✓ Managementoftenderingprocess(preparation,estimationofthecosts,evaluation of tenders and award) for development of infrastructure facilities.
- ✓ Preparation of documents to obtain clearances from the local agencies for the completion of site development, and the provision or extension of any infrastructure facility for the resettlement site such as ground water extractionand electricity supply.
- ✓ Preparation of type designs options for the houses as per the building bylaws and their approval and also prepare details along with the costs
- ✓ Hiring of legal agency/ expert to:
 - Prepare all legal documentation for the transfer of land in the name of individual households
 - Advise APGCL to complete legal requirements related to land development, allocation and infrastructure development

³²The displaced households could invest compensation that they received for the demolished house in the project area in economic enterprises together with land compensation.

Role and Responsibilities of the NGO for Relocation

186. The key activities of the NGO are the following:
- ✓ Coordinate with contractors who construct or provide resettlement facilities;
 - ✓ Form a housing society at the resettlement site,
 - ✓ Identify clusters of land plot to distribute among small groups of households.
 - ✓ Help resettlers shift their belongings to the resettlement site.
 - ✓ Assist APGCL in preparing 'transit allotment' letters, and the final transfer letters and documents.
 - ✓ Supervision of maintenance of public facilities at the resettlement site.
 - ✓ Support APGCL to continue communicates with the affected people.

10. INCOME RESTORATION AND REHABILITATION

187. A key objective of CRTDP is to improve, or at least to restore, the livelihoods of all physically or economically displaced households and persons of the project in real terms relative to pre-project levels, and to improve the standard of living of the displaced poor and other vulnerable households. The acquisition of land and other project interventions in their communities will, at least, initially diminish their incomes, and cause losses to their livelihood resources. The project will support alternative income generating schemes and enhancement of current livelihood resources of the affected households, so that they can either continue their previous occupations or start new livelihoods with potential better incomes. As per the second schedule of the Act of 2013, the provisions of the following assistance to APs to restore and improve income are mandatory. An affected household will get the following:

- ✓ Mandatory employment for one member per affected household at the project sites or ₹500,000 as one-time lump-sum payment per household or ₹2000 per month per household as annuity for 20 years with appropriate indexation to consumer price index for agricultural labourers;
- ✓ A monthly subsistence allowance of ₹3,000 for 12 months³³;
- ✓ A special ST subsistence allowance of ₹50,000 per household;
- ✓ APs will be included as entitled persons to receive income generation assistance from the national and state income generation schemes (see section on income restoration and rehabilitation for details).

10.1 Steps in Income Restoration Process at the Project Level

188. The NGO in consultation with SESC and ADCs will finalize an income restoration program for the project. The program will have the following components:

10.1.1 Collection of Information on Economic Activities of the APs

189. Basic information of the APs' livelihoods and sources of income is available from the census and the SIAs conducted in the project area. Information on land-based economic activities, non-land economic activities, and the total income of each affected household from various income sources will be collected. Based on this information, short-term and long-term income restoration and improvement programs will be formulated.

10.1.2 Short-Term Income Restoration Strategy

190. A short-term income restoration strategy focuses on the following:

- ✓ Assist the APs to obtain project-related employment opportunities such as
 - employment at the project sites
 - employment at the relocation site
- ✓ Ensure the provision of short-term welfare grants and allowances are provided on time to each physically displaced household. Such grants include:
 - One-time resettlement allowance
 - Free transport to resettlement areas or assistance for transport (if displaced)
 - Transitional allowances or grants until adequate income is generated ³³As per in the Act of 2013.

- Special assistance and allowances for vulnerable households (all affected households received the special assistance awarded to tribal people, as they are considered 'vulnerable groups').

10.1.3 Long-term Income Restoration Strategy

191. An NGO in consultation with the APs will develop a range of feasible long-term income restoration and improvement options. Long-term options are government financed; therefore no separate budget is required. However, in resettlement and rehabilitation budget, provision has been made for the expenses to be incurred towards the coordination between project and concerned departments for dovetailing of poverty alleviation schemes. The project officials will coordinate with district administration and state administration. Tribal Development and Social Welfare Department, and District Rural Development Agency (DRDA) to ensure that the APs will have access to such schemes to improve their income sources and livelihoods. This will be done by the NGO.

10.1.4 Inter-Agency Linkages for Income Restoration

192. All affected households earned their livelihood from the cultivation of small and marginal land. Therefore they need special assistance to ensure that they will be able to reconstruct their livelihoods. The NGO will ensure that households who partially or fully lost their cultivated land will get cultivable land plots close to their current communities, so that there will be minimal disruption to their social networks and normal work patterns. This arrangement will be reviewed in the context of the national policy to discourage jhum cultivation³⁴ on tribal lands in consultation with the tribal peoples.

193. In order to prepare appropriate and sustainable income restoration programs, it is necessary to identify the current skills and training needs of the APs. During the verification survey, APs will be specifically asked about the skill they already possess other than the one related to their current occupation. The NGO will conduct a livelihood survey among the affected households to ascertain what type of skills are available among them and how they could be related to the resource bases in the area and markets. Such knowledge help identify training needs of the APs. The NGO will organize a series of skill training programs for the benefit of the APs.

194. The NGOs will identify income-generating activities for the APs. This would include establishing forward and backward linkages for marketing and credit facilities. The NGOs in consultation with the APs, APGCL, district administration and other stakeholders in institutional financing and marketing federations will prepare micro-plans for income restoration activities.

195. In case of upgrading agriculture productivity, the training on technical know-how will be arranged as per the choices of the target group population. In case of generation of alternative livelihood schemes, felt needs of the target group population will be prioritized through consultations and interviews. Furthermore, these options will be tested for their viability against availability of skills, resource bases in the area, and available appropriate technology.

196. Government of India along with the State Governments run various poverty alleviation programmes through District Rural Development Agency (DRDA). Participation in these schemes will help the APs to gain short-term income generation opportunities. APGCL work closely with DRDA ³⁴The Jhum cultivation and practice involves clearing vegetative/forest cover on land/slopes of hills, drying and burning it, which will be discouraged by the government due to environmental impact.

to get the APs trained in these schemes. All current schemes will be explored by the implementing NGO and efforts will be made to tie up with these agencies to implement the project related income restoration schemes.

10.2 Household-level Income Restoration Schemes

197. APGCL will formulate individual income restoration schemes for the affected households. In preparing the schemes, several factors will be taken into consideration:

- Preference to be given to the women APs
- Educational level of the APs
- Type of skills possessed
- Preferred economic activities in the post displacement period
- Extent of land left after acquisition
- Extent of land purchased or provided by ADC
- Suitability of economic activity to supplement the income
- Market potential and marketing facilities

198. APGCL and the NGO during the project implementation phase will explore the options that are available in public sector banks, specialized institutions such as National Scheduled Tribe Development Finance Corporation, State and Central Government Schemes focused on improving incomes of vulnerable and poor households, National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development which can be tapped to assist the APs to obtain capital, required skills and connections to start new enterprises or to improve their current livelihoods. Under National Scheduled Tribe Development Finance Corporation, the following schemes are available for the APs and their households. Special Component Plan (SCP) for scheduled tribal men and women to improve their livelihoods. The maximum support is ₹35,000 per household.

10.3 Special Central Government Assistance to Tribal Sub plan for Men and Women

- ✓ Mahila Samridhi Yojana (MSY) (Women's Development Scheme)- ₹25,000 per person.
- ✓ Laghu Vasya Yojana (LVY) under NSFDC for scheduled tribal men and women- ₹200,000 for a registered association.
- ✓ NSTFDC Credit Linked Scheme for Scheduled Tribal men and women—maximum ₹500,000 for a registered group.

199. The APs will participate in developing a range of feasible long-term income restoration schemes. APGCL will work with the NGO and ADCs to dovetail the poverty alleviation schemes to the project area. The developed by the NGOs with the help of APGCL will indicate the type of scheme that each affected household has opted. The APs will receive training in new skills or in improving their skills to engage in new employments.

10.3.1 Non-Land-Based Income Restoration Schemes

200. Since land is abundantly available and almost all APs are farmers, land-based income restoration schemes are critical in the project areas. However, options will be explored for non-land-based income restoration schemes outlined below:

10.3.2 Agricultural Employment

201. Cattle, goat and sheep rearing, poultry and piggery are already known allied agricultural pursuits in the Project area. The APs who are farmers can try out these activities to augment their household incomes. For this, they require training which can be provided by District Dairy Development Authority (DDDA). Milk collection routes can be extended by local milk federation to reach new dairy farmers. The NGO of the Project will contact the local milk federation and other agencies to facilitate this program.

10.3.3 Petty Trade and Business

202. Under this scheme, the options are grocery shops, vegetable & fruit shops, stationary shops, tea and snacks bars, ready-made garment shops, and betel shops. The APs those who are already in such trades and businesses are eligible for assistance from the petty trade and business schemes. The NGO will decide on type of shops to be established as per demand and resources available.

10.3.4 Industrial Income Schemes

203. The options available under this scheme are tailoring, carpentry, masonry, motorwinding, bicycle, motor cycle and auto repair, driving, television, tape recorder and watch repair, pottery, and leather works. The APs those who are in such trades can undergo training for skill upgrade. District Industries Centres or Khadi Village Industries Board or Industrial Training Institutes provide training in such trades. APGCL will finance such skill training and will hire professional and competent agencies from outside.

10.4 Other Schemes

204. Others income restoration schemes include providing loan for pump sets, dug well, and borewell. The APs those who are farmers but do not have irrigation facilities can avail such loans. Such loans are given by commercial banks after the District Rural Development Authority processes the applications.

205. The implementation of above income restoration and improvement schemes requires the holding of 'credit camps' for which there is a demand. Extending financial credit support is an important component of non-land-based income restoration schemes. Local government officials, NGOs, the AP representatives, and APGCL officials attend these credit camps. The purpose of these camps is to encourage local financial institutions to inform the APs of credit options available, and how to avoid procedural delays in obtaining credit to start or to improve their commercial activities such as dairy farming and cultivation of high-valued vegetable. All formalities related to processing of applications for credit assistance will be completed at the camps. APGCL and NGOs will coordinate closely with Lead Bank managers and other commercial banks in the area.

206. APGCL will implement special skill development schemes for the benefit of vulnerable households who will lose their livelihoods. They will be assisted through alternative economic rehabilitation schemes and vocational training for skill upgrade programs.

10.5 Skill Training Schemes

207. One of the strategies for economic sustenance of the APs is to help them improve their production level or to gain new skills or to upgrade their skills through training. A significant number of APs are farmers and they (including women) are interested in diversifying their income sources. In this regard, low skill endowment is the key impediment, especially among women. The project will provide training to both affected men and women to improve their skills and identify suitable income restoration schemes. Besides training in specific skills, general entrepreneurship development will also form part of the training programs to improve management capabilities of the APs. The NGO will assist in linking them with National Rural Livelihood Mission.³⁵ These programs will include affected women, especially the young educated women.

208. Skill training programs are regularly conducted by the District Rural Development Agency (DRDA). A popular program is training of rural youths for self-employment (TRYSEM). It will be the responsibility of APGCL to ensure that the APs receive the training that they are interested in. The NGO will act as a facilitator, and the skill training will be imparted either by the government agencies such as district industries centre (DIC=), Khadi Village Industries Commission (KVIC) or by a professional and competent agency. The local Industrial Training Institutes (ITIs) will also be used as useful source of training.

10.6 Peoples Expectation on Rehabilitation and Income Restoration

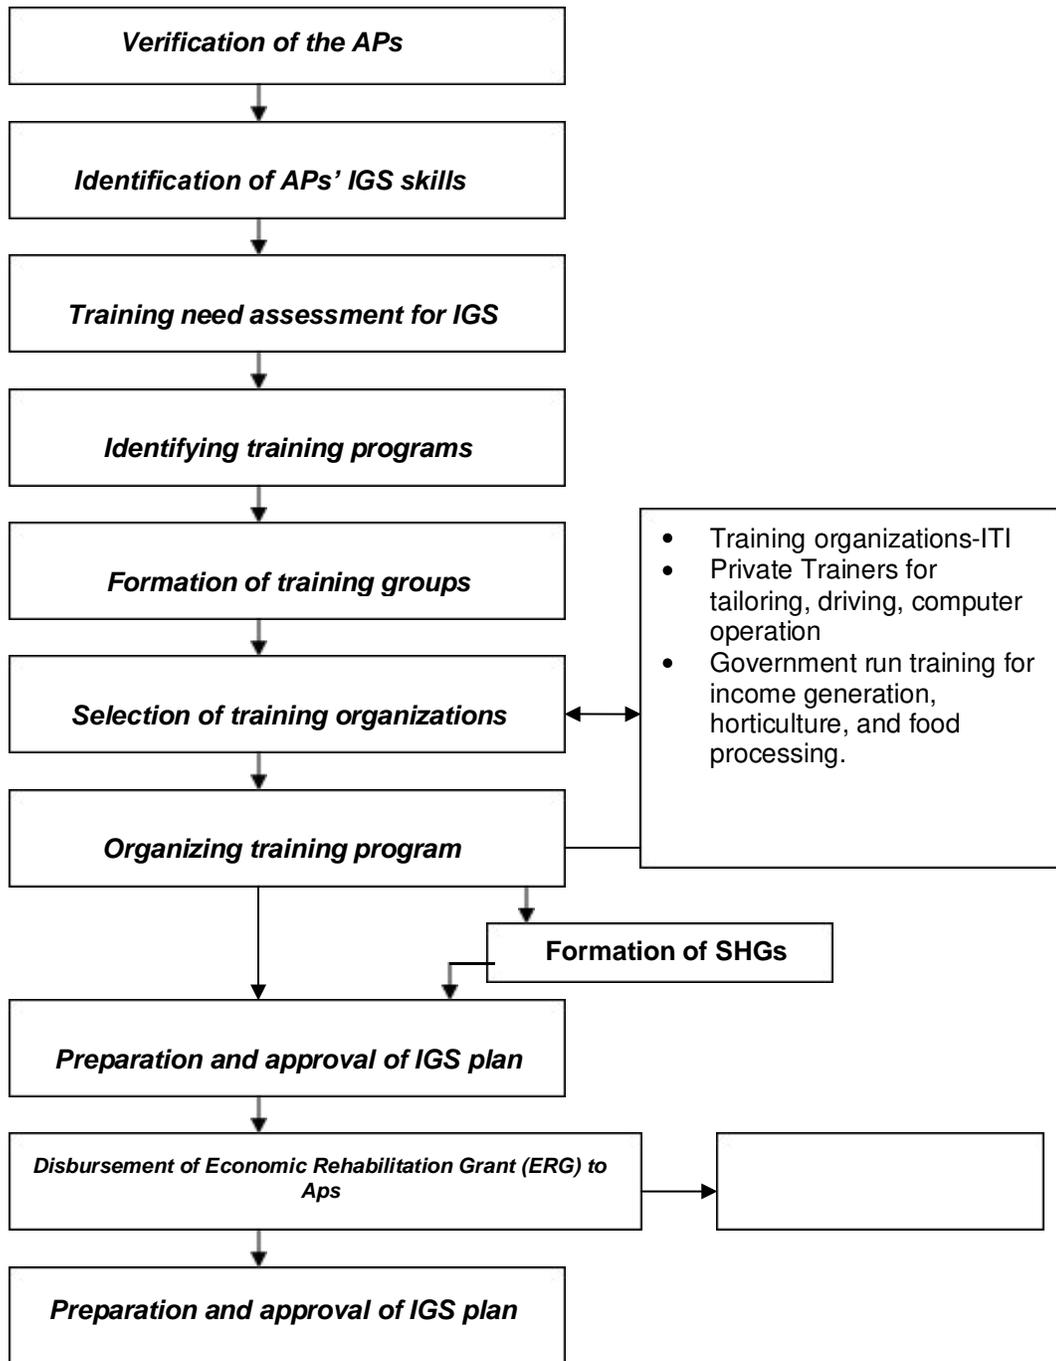

209. More than 80 percent of the affected households indicated that they expect cash as compensation for the land and other properties acquired for the project. 72 percent of households expect to receive new land parcels in the vicinity of their current households in addition to compensation for current leaseholds acquired. They plan to continue their livelihood as jhum cultivators, unless they receive irrigated land to cultivate from the ADCs or GoA or APGCL. They do not envisage any difficulties in obtaining land for jhum cultivation as there are ample amount of land not occupied in the project area. 22 percent of households expect to assistance from the project to start piggeries, poultry farming, and cattle rearing. Another 22 percent of households expect to assistance from the project to establish petty trade and businesses. 20 percent of households indicated that they would like to get skill training so that they could find suitable and sustainable employment at the project sites and in the region. 12 percent of households want assistance from the project to start cottage industries such as weaving and wood carving work. Only 12 percent of households indicated that they would like to work at the project sites (Table 3.8). This is because they think that the project would hire only a limited number of APs as workers at lower grades for a limited period of time. Many youth at the affected households expect to get the fishing rights in the reservoir as an exclusive right of the APs.

³⁵The National Rural Livelihoods Mission (NRLM) was launched by the Ministry of Rural Development (MoRD), Government of India in June 2011. Supported partially by the World Bank, the mission aims at creating efficient and effective institutional platforms of the rural poor enabling them to increase household income through sustainable livelihood enhancements and improved access to financial services. In this context, Union Cabinet in 2013 approved the proposal to set up an autonomous society at national level - the National Rural Livelihoods Promotion Society (NRLPS) under the Ministry of Rural Development. The NRLPS is formed as a professional multi-disciplinary body to provide wide ranging professional and technical support to the NRLM and the State Rural Livelihoods Missions (SRLMs) in the implementation of their mission objectives.

10.7 Coordination Committee

210. A coordination committee will be formed by APGCL in consultation with GoA at the project level with representative of the APs and ADCs. The NGO will be the secretary of the committee. The committee will oversee the design of appropriate income restoration strategies and their implementation.

11. RESETTLEMENT BUDGET

11.1 Estimation of Costs

211. Compensation rates for land and other property, and resettlement allowances were calculated with the help of Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs, based on the findings of the consultations held with the APs, GoA, and APGCL.

212. The cost estimates of income restoration and improvement program were calculated by following the requirements of the Act of 2013, ADB's involuntary resettlement safeguard policy requirements, and by using the prevailing costs of each of them. Cost estimates for institutional development cover office accommodation, buying or hiring vehicles, and maintenance of infrastructure facilities, NGO and consultant hiring costs, skill training, and staff salaries.

213. Cost of resettlement site development is estimated based the discussions with the PMU of the project in February 2017 and the WAPCOS' resettlement and rehabilitation plan of 2017.

214. APGCL will ensure that sufficient funds are available at the beginning of the project to meet the listed cost items in this plan. All land acquisition, compensation, and rehabilitation, administrative, monitoring, NGO and consultants' fees, and income and livelihood restoration and improvement costs will be considered as integral components of the project cost, and will be borne by APGCL.

215. APGCL in consultation with the APs, PAPA, GoA, and the two ADCs will revise and update the costs of land acquisition, resettlement, and rehabilitation after the approval of the project by ADB, based on the completed detailed design survey reports of the project. In revising and updating CRTDP, APGCL will not lower any of the entitlement listed in the entitlement matrix. However, it can enhance an entitlement by providing additional funds. APGCL will allocate sufficient funds and obtain timely approvals from relevant authorities to avoid delays, especially in constructing the resettlement site for the physically displaced 15 households. The land and property compensation costs have already been allocated in APGCL's 2016/17 annual budget.

216. APGCL with the participation of the ADCs and PAPA will directly pay cash compensation packages to the APs in full before any construction activity of the project commences, and physical displacement of households. Resettlement assistance program will start before construction works commence and may continue during the project construction and implementation phases. APGCL will provide a confirmed time line for the construction of the resettlement site and its infrastructure facilities. This time line will be shared with GoA and ADB.

217. All land acquisition, resettlement, and economic rehabilitation funds will be provided by APGCL based on the finance plan of the project, agreed by APGCL, GoA, ADCs, and ADB. APGCL will submit the final CRTDP with an updated budget to ADB for review and concurrence.

218. The total estimated cost of implementation of CRTDP is ₹2,293.9 million including land acquisition, resettlement, income restoration, monitoring, institutional capacity building, and 8% of contingencies. The detailed budget breakdown is given in Table 10.3, and the summary in Table 10.4.

219. APGCL's budgetary contribution to implement CRTDP will be made available at the time ADB provides its loan. Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs will provide replacement land on lease for those economically displaced households of the project in the vicinity of the project, if required. APGCL with the assistance of GoA and the two ADCs will develop basic amenities in the project area and its vicinity as a part of its local area development plan. CRTDP and regional development plan will satisfy the Section 41 (5) of LA Act of 2013- Special Provision for a schedule caste and schedule tribe-development plan.

11.2 Local Area Development Plan

220. The following development programs will come under the Local Area Development Plan of the Project:

- Educational facilities
- Healthcare facilities
- Construction of community toilets
- Development of training/educational institute

221. Upgrade of 5 Schools. APGCL will upgrade the infrastructure and facilities of 5 schools at the expense of ₹3.8 million each, and the total cost of the program is ₹19 million (Table 10.1).

Table 11.1: Cost of Upgrading a School Infrastructure

Facility	INR (million)
Building (classrooms 4 + office room 1 + staff room+ 1 hall, whitewashing & painting)	1.5
Furniture & fixtures and equipment	0.5

Upgrading of school library	0.3
Improvement of drinking water facilities	0.5
Improvement of toilets	0.5
Total per school	3.8

222. Construction of community toilets. As a part of the 'Swachh Bharat Abhiyan', APGCL will provide finance to build 10-seater community toilets in 20 villages in the Project area. These community toilets will be attached with biogas digester toilets and reed beds. ₹0.2million per village is allocated for this purpose. The total cost is ₹0.4million.

223. Health care facilities. ₹18.0 million is allocated to upgrade healthcare facilities in the project area (Table 11.2).

Table 11.2: Cost for Upgrading Healthcare Facilities

Facility	INR (million)
Hospital building improvement	10.00
Furniture, beds and other items	2.00
Upgrade of pathological laboratory	2.00
Purchase of one van with medical facilities	3.5
Computer, printers, UPS, etc	0.5
Total	18.00

224. Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs will prepare a strategy to overcome the propensity towards jhum cultivation among tribal households and to move them towards sedentary agricultural practices which would uplift their income and social status. This will entail land reforms and agricultural development support to such households. Such costs are not part of the implementation of CRTDP.
225. The joint verification of APs was done with respective Autonomous Council in both the Districts. The land Revenue Department of Dima Hasao Autonomous Council has provided a list of 1376 AHs, of those 6 are Government property and 4 remain untraceable. It was communicated that a few more are also getting affected, but could not be contacted during the survey period. So, till date 1366 have already been compensated (₹446.73 million) for their land loss and land premium of ₹200 million has been paid.
226. It has been assessed that the Karbi Anglong District has 79 APs and the total payable is ₹37.29 (26.69+10.60). Of this a partial amount has been disbursed till date and the socioeconomic survey is yet to be completed.
227. It is to be noted that-
- ✓ APs having more than one plot of land was earlier counted multiple time. Now it is being calculated as 1 AP and X number of plots; so the number of APs has reduced while the plots of land remain the same.
 - ✓ It is expected that once the survey is over in both the districts a few number of APs will be added to the list.
 - ✓ With the GRM is in place there is a chance that the GR might lead to further addition to the list.

Keeping the above situation in view the Budget (Table 11.3) is being kept unaltered and will be updated after the completion of the SE survey.

12. IMPLEMENTATION SCHEDULE

228. The draft CRTDP has been prepared based. The key social safeguard related project activities such as socioeconomic survey, cut-off-date publication, resettlement planning, public consultations have already been completed. Draft summary CRDTDP has been disseminated and disclosure. However, detailed disclosure of information on land acquisition, compensation payment, relocation, income restoration and improvement, monitoring and evaluation of resettlement implementation are still to be completed, and their details are given in the implementation schedule.

229. APGCL through its PMU and assistance from PMC and implementing NGO needs to update the draft CRTDP based on the final list of APs and design. The socioeconomic surveys were incomplete during the preparation of draft CRTDP which needs to be updated and finalized to incorporate the final impacts. Based on the final information, the draft CRTDP will be updated and finalized and will be submitted to ADB for approval.

230. The updating of draft CRTDP needs collection of latest and additional data by the implementing NGO with the supervision of PMC and PMU. Based on the information, CRTDP will be updated and NGO will develop specific livelihood restoration program and indicators to measure effectiveness of the program. The information needs to be collected described below:

- i) Land requirement and impact by specific Project elements/components including the number of villages affected and submerged, size and type of land, magnitude of impacts, land holding character and livelihood impact;
- ii) Additional socioeconomic data for all (1831) affected households, though all affected households are scheduled tribes and entitled to vulnerability allowance, including the number of households below the poverty line; the number of woman headed households without any earning members; the number of households with members with physical disability; and
- iii) The ongoing government-sponsored income generation activities and the viability for designing and implementation of long-term income restoration program. Additionally, the NGO will be required to develop specific measurable indicators for monitoring implementation of income restoration programs.

231. The EA will ensure that no physical or economic displacement of the affected households will occur until: (i) cash compensation has been paid fully to each affected household in each project component that is ready to be constructed; (ii) other entitlements listed in the CRTDP are provided to the APs; and (iii) a comprehensive income and livelihood rehabilitation program, supported by adequate budget is in place to help affected to improve, or at least restore, their incomes and livelihoods (Table 11.1) In addition, special attention will be given for indigenous peoples to ensure that CRTDP is implemented with due consideration of the cultural aspects and characteristics of scheduled tribes.

13. MONITORING AND REPORTING

232. The objective of safeguard compliance monitoring is to provide the state government and PMU with an effective tool for assessing the progress in compensation payment, income restoration, and rehabilitation progress, identifying potential difficulties and problems. It will also provide an early warning system for areas that need correction. Continuous supervision and periodic monitoring are an integral part of successful project implementation.

13 Internal Monitoring

233. PMU will monitor the implementation of CRTDP to determine whether resettlement goals and other social safeguard requirements of the project have been achieved, and livelihood and living standards of the affected scheduled tribal peoples have been restored, and also to recommend on how to further improve CRTDP implementation. PMU will prepare semi annual monitoring reports and submit them to EA and ADB for review and approval. The monitoring reports will focus on whether resettlement activities have complied with involuntary resettlement and tribal peoples safeguard policy principles and loan covenants of the project. The reports will also document consultations conducted with the APs, and the summaries of the issues identified, and the actions taken to resolve them. It will also provide a summary of grievances or complaints lodged by the APs and the actions taken to redress them, and also the specific activities conducted to restore and improve income sources and livelihoods of the APs. The application of social safeguards (involuntary resettlement and tribal peoples) takes three forms:

- (i) Project administrative monitoring to ensure that CRTDP implementation is on schedule and problems are dealt with on a timely basis;
- (ii) Socioeconomic monitoring including income restoration and improvement during and after any resettlement impacts, utilizing baseline information established during socioeconomic surveys; and
- (iii) Overall monitoring to assess the socioeconomic status of the APs. If any deviations from the resettlement and tribal peoples safeguard policy principles or the loan covenants are reported in monitoring reports, EA will prepare a Corrective Action Plan (CAP) and will submit it to ADB for review and approval. The monitoring reports and CAP will be posted on ADB website.

234. PMU will conduct the monitoring of CRTDP implementation through ESSC with the support of the NGO. ESSC prepares quarterly progress report regarding social safeguard application and compliance. In addition, it will look into the progress in resettlement site development, income restoration and rehabilitation programs and their progress, communication with the APs, their connectivity and grievances; information dissemination, and CRTDP implementation timetable. The monitoring reports will be submitted to ADB for review and approval in a semi-annual basis. Each monitoring report will indicate whether a CAP is required to meet social safeguard requirements.

13.1 External Monitoring

235. As the project is categorized as "A" for involuntary resettlement impacts and impacts on indigenous (tribal) peoples, EA will engage a qualified and experienced external monitor (EM) to monitor resettlement implementation process semi-annually and to suggest how to correct any detected weaknesses. EM will also verify the implementation of CRTDP including the payment of compensation and the implementation of income restoration program and its results.

236. The external monitoring will include the following activities: (i) review and verification of monitoring reports prepared by PMU;(ii)monitor the work carried out by the NGO and ESSC;(iii) I train and guide them on CRTDP implementation; (iv) review the performance of the grievance redress mechanism and report on its working; (v) conduct mid-term safeguard impact assessment; (vi) review corrective action plans; (vii) consult displaced persons, officials, community leaders to prepare monitoring and review reports; (viii) assess resettlement efficiency, effectiveness, and the efficiency of PMU, impact of the project and its sustainability, and (ix) draw lessons for future resettlement policy formulation and planning; (x) external monitoring will also alert the Project authorities and ADB on the risks, safeguard non-compliances, and early warnings in non-implementation of the CRTDP.

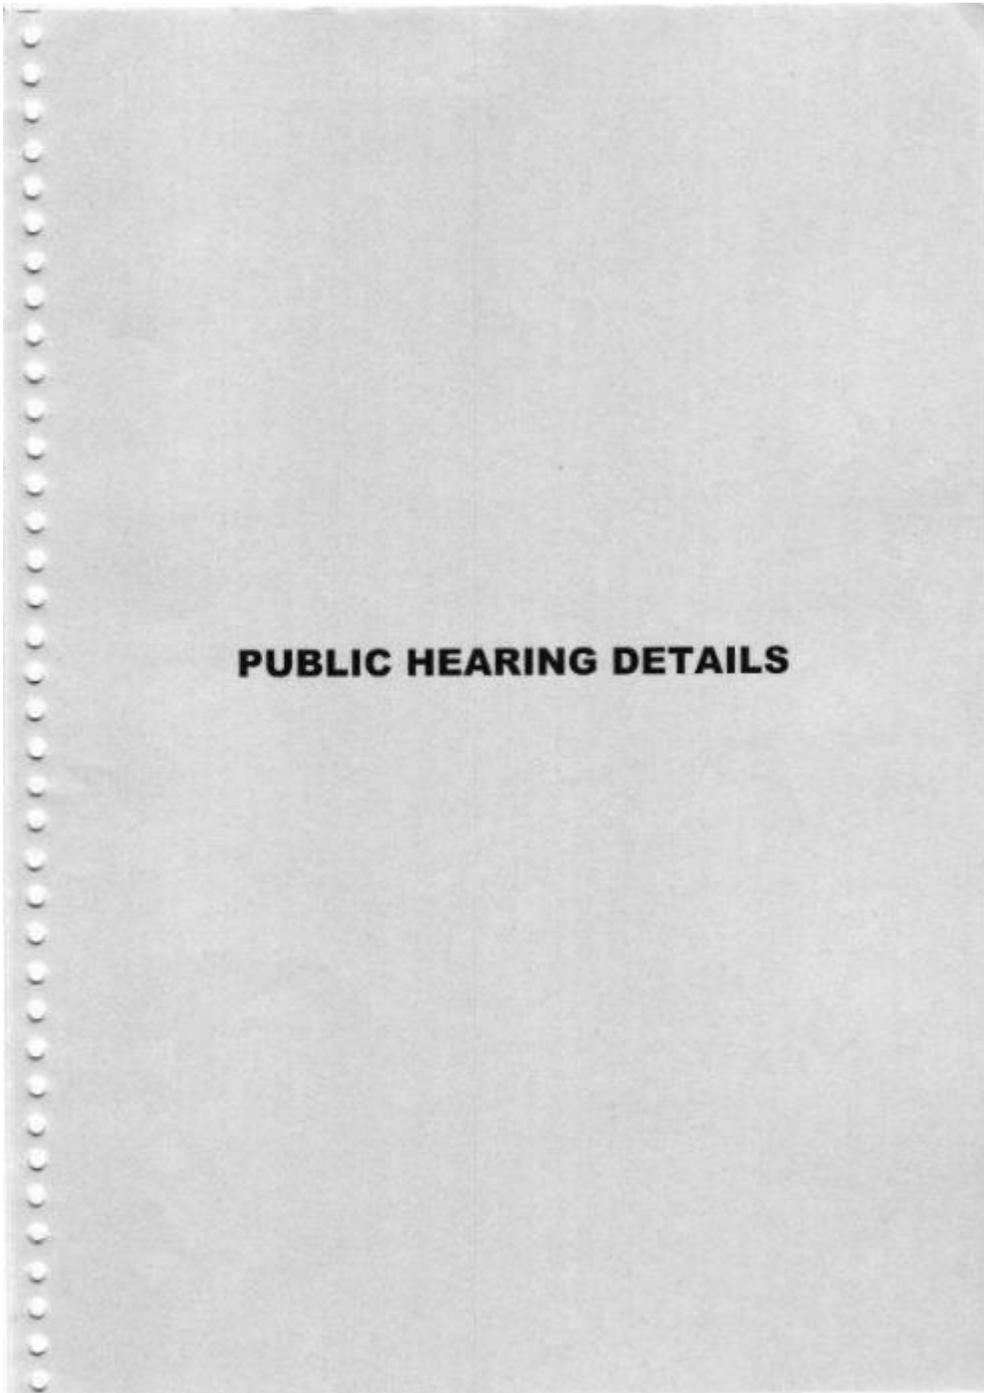

237. EM will document good practices as well as difficulties encountered in implementing CRTDP. A monitoring format is given below which needs to be elaborated during CRTDP implementation phase by the NGO with the help of ESSC (Table 12.1). A sample monitoring template is given in annex13. EM will submit semi-annual monitoring reports to APGCL and ADB for review. Each report will specifically note whether a CAP is needed to bring the implementation of CRTDP to safeguard compliance. The reports will be uploaded in APGCL and ADB websites.

Leaflet (Combined Resettlement and Tribal Development Plan) for Disclosure

March 2018

India: Assam Power Sector Enhancement
Investment Program -Tranche 3: Lower Kopili
Hydroelectric Project

Prepared by: Assam Power Generation Corporation Limited.

I. INTRODUCTION

1. This is an information leaflet for combined resettlement and tribal development plan (CRTDP). The CRTDP identifies and records the social, economic, and cultural aspects of the proposed Lower Kopili Hydroelectric Project (LKHP) area and its affected communities, and potential social impacts of LKHP on them. Then it presents a development plan to avoid or at least to minimize potential adverse social impacts of LKHP on them and to ensure that they share its benefits. The executive agency of CRTDP is Assam Power Generation Corporation Ltd. (APGCL). The Government of Assam with partial funding from the ADB will be responsible for the construction and development of the project. Government of Assam through APGCL pays for land acquisition, compensation, relocation, economic rehabilitation of the project-affected persons (APs) and local area development. The sources of CRTDP are field observations, results of socioeconomic surveys conducted in the project area, findings of public consultations, careful examination of Indian and Assam regulatory framework for land acquisition, compensation payment, resettlement and rehabilitation, and the project information that are available in detailed project report (DPR) and related documents.

2. The project will play a significant role in improving the power supply in the State of Assam. This, in turn, will improve the livelihood and living conditions of the people. Industrial development and improvement of social facilities such as schools and hospitals directly benefit the APs. One of the objectives of CRTDP is to ensure that the outcome of such development will reach the APs enabling them to enjoy such benefits with others. The project will improve the road infrastructure in the project area. Improved access and communication will link people in the remote project area with other towns and industrial locations improving their geographical, social and economic mobility. Such benefits will reduce rural poverty and vulnerability of many households in the project area and in its vicinity.

3. The proposed LKHP will be located in the Dima Hasao⁴³ and the Karbi Anglong autonomous districts⁴⁴ in the Assam State of India. The two autonomous districts are the hilliest, remotest, and most undulated districts in Assam. The project will impact 16 villages and the details are given in Table 1.

⁴³ Also known as North Cachar Hills Autonomous District (This is the old name of the district).

⁴⁴ Both autonomous districts and their councils were constituted under the Sixth Schedule of the Constitution of India. An autonomous council is sometimes referred to as a 'state in miniature' having legislative, executive and judicial powers. It has the autonomy to legislate and administer land, revenue, primary education, irrigation and drainage, and customary laws recognized by the sixth schedule. (See below section IV).

II. PROJECT IMPACTS

4. The project affects 16 villages with 1,831 tribal households. It physically displaces 18 households. The project will acquire 1,577 hectares of land of which about two-thirds are leaseholds and the remaining of land are state forests. The project is in a 'non-cadastral' area, that is, no land or revenue records are available other than the data on the leased land parcels to tribal persons. The total land area to be acquired by the project is 1,577 hectares (Table 2). Land acquisition will affect 1,831 households. Of them, 18 households will be physically displaced. In case of other affected households, the project will have impacts on their livelihoods. The scope of land acquisition in terms of type of land by each district is given in Table 3 and the types of affected households by each district are given in Table 4.

III. LEGAL FRAMEWORK

5. The Schedule VI of the Constitution of India established several autonomous district councils (ADCs) in the northeast India. An ADC is an administrative entity with a structure to safeguard tribal peoples' rights and interests and their traditional ways of living. It also provides a political framework, guaranteed by the Constitution of India, for tribal peoples to self-govern their affairs. The LKHP lies in the Dima Hasao and the Karbi Anglong autonomous districts of the Assam State in India. The lands that fall within the jurisdiction of the two districts are 'scheduled' or listed tribal land and those who belong to the listed tribes are 'scheduled tribes.'

6. A member of a scheduled tribe can obtain a piece of land on lease with the permission of gaon bura (village headman) from an ADC for residence and livelihood. The ADC renews the leasehold periodically on the recommendation of the gaon bura. When the State Government acquires such leaseholds for a public purpose, the leaseholders are entitled to land compensation, resettlement assistance, and livelihood restoration and improvement.

7. The Government of Assam through GOI plans to obtain a loan from ADB for the project. The ADB's resettlement and indigenous (tribal) peoples safeguard policies (Safeguard Policy Statement, 2009) therefore apply to the project in addition to the local policy and legal framework and international covenants and declarations. The key national legislation applicable to the project is the Right to Fair Compensation and Transparency in Land Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Resettlement Act, 2013 (The Act of 2013). This Act of 2013 with the land acquisition and compensation procedures of Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong ADCs provide a comprehensive legal framework to prepare and implement resettlement plans and tribal development plans. They match most of the involuntary resettlement and indigenous peoples safeguard policy requirements of ADB.

IV. ENTITLEMENT MATRIX

8. The entitlement matrix (Table 5) of the CRTDP summarizes the entitlements of the affected persons, households, and communities. It aims not only to compensate land losses and restore livelihoods and sources of income of the affected households but also to improve them. Entitlements fall into several categories. Some entitlements are household-level entitlements while others are community-level entitlements. The key categories of entitlements are cash compensation for land and crops acquired; resettlement of physically displaced households; household income restoration and improvement; infrastructure and other amenities at the resettlement site for the resettlers; and local area development programs. The cut-off date for assessment of land and Zeerat value has been fixed as 2012.

APGCL will develop a plan for the allocation of fishing rights in the reservoir among affected households before project construction activities start. Affected households will have priority in receiving fishing permits in the reservoir.
Part 4. Local Area Development
Educational facilities		1. Five schools with the following facilities at each: building (classrooms 4+office room+1 hall+ white washing and painting; 2. Furniture and fixtures; Equipment for laboratories; 3. Upgrade of school library; 4. Improvement of drinking water facility; 5. Improvement of toilet facilities	APGCL, ADC, GOA	APGCL, ADC and GOA will consult PAPA and affected households in selecting the locations, planning, construction of facilities with PAPA and affected households.

V. RELOCATION

9. The APGCL will provide physically displaced households with adequate and appropriate replacement land, housing, and other amenities in addition to cash land compensation for the lost land and other assets. An affected household will not be physically displaced before providing a permanent dwelling house at the resettlement site. If there is a delay in providing a house, APGCL will rent a house for the displaced household with water supply, sanitation, and other basic facilities. The additional cost of such interim accommodation will be fully borne by APGCL.

10. Each affected household has opted to receive cash compensation for the land they lost to the project. The total estimated cost of the land compensation package for the affected households is Rs843.31 million in the two autonomous districts. Income restoration and improvement will follow the requirements listed in the second schedule of the Act of 2013 which broadly meet the ADB's social safeguard policy standards.

VI. INCOME RESTORATION AND IMPROVEMENT

11. The total estimated cost of income restoration and improvement of the APs is Rs1,082 million. The skill training program, priority employment for the APs at project sites, allocation of small-scale contracts and supplies to PAPA, linkages with regional employment generation programs will help the APs in restoring and improving their livelihoods.

12. APGCL will implement a local development program in consultation with national-level and state-level departments and agencies. The following aspects are covered under the local area development plan: upgrade of the infrastructure of five schools; construction of community toilets as part of the 'Swatch Bharat Abhiyan' APGCL will finance 10-seater community toilets in 20 villages); and upgrade of health care facilities in the project area. In the long-term, the two ADCs will prepare a strategy to overcome the propensity among tribal households towards jhum cultivation and to encourage them to move towards sedentary agricultural practices which would uplift their income levels and social status. This will entail land reforms and agricultural development support to such households. Such costs are not part of the implementation of CRTDP.

VII. CONSULTATION, PARTICIPATION, AND FUTURE CONSULTATIONS

13. APGCL, ADCs, and GoA in consultation with the APs identified the land area to be acquired for the project, and calculated land compensation and premium rates. In acquiring land from an ADC for a public purpose, the GoA uses a two-tier consent-seeking consultation program. The first-tier is obtaining the project-affected ADC's consent to transfer its tribal land to a non-tribal purpose, for example, to build a hydroelectric project. The second-tier is the agreement among the affected households, APGCL, ADC, and GOA on the rates of compensation, resettlement assistance and income restoration and improvement programs. During the consultations, consultants discussed the applicability of the Act of 2013 with PAPA members and the need for their broad community support to the project. They stated that from the initial phase of land acquisition, that is, when the land was identified for the project, their consent, as indicated in all oral and written submissions, was given for the construction of the project. They also indicated to the project authorities that they expect the project to pay fair compensation directly to them, and provide employment to the APs at project sites, and to invest in local area development. Records of the consultations and discussions among GOA, ADCs, APGCL, and the project-affected peoples associations (PAPA) from 2008 indicate that there has been no coercion or intimidation or bribery or inducement to engage the APs in consent-seeking consultation meetings. Consultation is a continuous process and will be continued throughout the project period. A stakeholder communication strategy is being prepared for the project.

VIII. INSTITUTIONAL ARRANGEMENTS

14. The Department of Energy of GOA coordinates all project activities at the state-level. APGCL is the executive agency (EA) of the project. It will establish a project management unit (PMU) before loan negotiations. The PMU has established a dedicated social and environmental safeguards cell (SESC). It comprises a qualified full-time environment specialist and a qualified full time social safeguard specialist. The SESC facilitates land acquisition and compensation, relocation and resettlement, distribution of resettlement assistance, and supervises income restoration and rehabilitation program of the project. The SESC is also responsible for internal monitoring of resettlement activities, including land acquisition, compensation payment, establishment and operation of GRM, and income restoration and improvement programs. The SESC will work full-time basis during the first two years of the project implementation.

15. The implementing agency (IA) of the project is also APGCL. It will recruit project management consultants (PMCs) to implement the project. APGCL will hire a local NGO to assist SESC in safeguard implementation, especially the implementation of livelihood restoration and improvement programs. The SESC and the NGO will (a) design an environmental and social management system for the implementation of the CRTDP; (b) improve the monitoring framework with accurate monitoring indicators for safeguard performance monitoring; (c) update socioeconomic baseline information; (d) undertake field studies, if required, to fill in gaps in socioeconomic databases; and (e) assist the establishment of the grievance redress mechanism and its operations. Institutional roles and responsibilities are described in Table 6.

IX. GRIEVANCE REDRESS MECHANISM

16. The EA will formally establish a transparent and time-bound grievance redress mechanism (GRM) at the project level to receive and resolve the APs' grievances and complaints, if any, on the delivery of their entitlements, in particular, and project impacts on them, in general. The GRM will be established before the physical takeover of the land from the affected households. A three-tier grievance redress mechanism will be established. The first tier is the grass-roots level mechanism. Grievances of the APs are first dealt with by gaon buras in consultation with field officials, and the contractors of the project. Complaints that cannot be addressed at the level of gaon buras will be forwarded to the project-level grievance redress committee (GRC) which is the second tier. The third tier is the appellate GRC at the state level. APGCL will deal with the complaints and grievances as the appellate GRC. The presence of GRM or seeking relief from GRM is not a bar to take grievances and complaints to national courts for arbitration. Process of GRM is described in Table 7.

Table 7: Grievance Redress Mechanism

Steps	Process
First-tier GRC	Grievances and complaints that need immediate attention can be directed to the gaon bura or a project officer who is in the area. These on-site personnel are the accessible first level contacts for a grieved party to obtain a prompt resolution to a grievance or a complaint. Contact phone numbers, addresses, and names of the gaon buras and field level project officials, and project contractors will be displayed at all construction site offices and public places in the project area. Registers for recording complaints and grievance will be available with gaon buras and field officials. They will be trained by the SESC on how to record grievances and complaints, and how to arbitrate and solve them. (see annex 6 for a sample template). They are required to resolve an issue within 7 days from the receipt of a complaint or grievance. Records of grievances received at field level will be sent once a month to SESC at PMU enabling the tracking of the progress in grievance redress mechanism.
Second-tier GRC	GRC at the project level will address the APs' complaints and grievances promptly, using a transparent process which is gender responsive, culturally appropriate, and readily accessible to all segments of the APs, at no costs and without retribution. It will be chaired by the project director or his/her representative. The safeguard consultants of the SESC, an administrative officer, concerned engineers, contractors, representative from PAPA of Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong districts, at least one women representative, and district officials will also take part in GRC meetings. GRC will have a secretary. It could call land surveyors, gaon buras of the project area, and representatives of project-related agencies to participate in GRC meetings. The Secretary will receive complaints and grievances. A record of each complaint or grievance will be kept at the project office. At this level, each grievance or complaint will be resolved within 15 days from the date of its registration. The decisions of the GRC will be conveyed in writing to the APs who sought relief through gaon Buras .

Third-tier GRC	If the GRC at the project-level considers the grievance or the complaint is beyond its jurisdiction, or it cannot resolve the complaint, PMU will refer it to APGCL, the third tier GRC located in Guwahati for resolution or relief. APGCL will attempt to resolve grievances within 30 days from date of receipt of a complaint or grievance. The Appellate GRC at APGCL will be chaired by the Deputy General Manager (Hydro). The other members of GRC are the representatives of the Revenue Department, ADCs, Survey Department, and PAPA and gaon buras . GRC hear the complaint or the grievance and provides its decision to the aggrieved party in 30 days from the registration of the complaint. The decision of the GRC is communicated in writing through gaon buras .

X. Other Avenues to Redress Grievances

17. There are three other supplementary avenues that are opened for the APs to resolve their problems, complaints, and grievances with regard to the project and its implementation. Details are given in Table 8.

Table 8: Other Avenue GRM

Steps	Process
ADB India Resident Mission in New Delhi	An aggrieved party can directly contact ADB's resident mission in New Delhi regarding a grievance or problem that GRM has failed to resolve. The party in writing informs the resident mission and initiates a good faith negotiation to solve the problem by working with the concerned resident mission's specialists and, if necessary, with ADB's South Asia Regional Department in Manila. The aggrieved party can use English or any local language to send the complaint to the resident mission or to the regional department, and the arbitration can be done in the preferred language of the aggrieved party.
ADB Accountability Mechanism⁵²	The affected party can use the ADB's Accountability Mechanism by writing to the complaint receiving officer at the ADB Headquarters in Manila. The Accountability Mechanism has two arms: the first is the Office of the Special Project Facilitator. The facilitator deals with the complaints with the help of the project personnel and the aggrieved party through a consultative process; the second arm of the Accountability Mechanism deals with the complaints against ADB regarding its failure to abide by its own safeguard policy requirements. Information on the ADB Accountability Mechanism will be included in the project information kit to be distributed among the affected communities as a part of the project GRM.
India's Courts System	If the GRM of the project cannot resolve a grievance or the aggrieved party feels that it has not received a fair hearing or award, the party can access the country's court system for relief at any stage of the deliberations in GRCs. In such an event, the GRC immediately terminates its hearing.

⁵² Complaint Receiving Officer (CRO), Accountability Mechanism, Asian Development Bank ADB Headquarters, 6 ADB Avenue, Mandaluyong City 1550, Metro Manila, Philippines (+632) 632-4444 loc. 70309 (+632) 636 2086 amcro@adb.org. Alternatively, a complaint may be submitted to the India's ADB resident mission, and it will forward the complaint to the CRO in Manila.

XI. BUDGET, MONITORING AND IMPLEMENTATIONS SCHEDULE

18. APGCL ensures that sufficient funds are available at the beginning of the project to meet the listed cost items of CRTDP. All land acquisition, resettlement, administrative, and monitoring costs, and NGO and consultants' fees, and income and livelihood restoration and improvement costs are integral components of the project costs and will be borne by APGCL.

19. CRTDP provides a monitoring framework for social safeguard implementation. The framework includes internal and external monitoring, and key monitoring indicators. The SESC will do internal monitoring of social safeguard application and progress under the supervision of PMU and with the help of the NGO. The external monitoring will be done by hired monitoring specialists. The PMU will submit semi-annual internal safeguard monitoring reports and semi-annual external safeguard monitoring reports to ADB for review. The safeguard monitoring reports will be posted on EA and ADB websites.

20. The EA will ensure that no physical or economic displacement of the affected households will occur until: (i) cash compensation has been paid fully to each affected household in each project component that is ready to be constructed; (ii) other entitlements listed in the CRTDP are provided to the APs; and (iii) a comprehensive income and livelihood rehabilitation program, supported by adequate budget is in place to help affected to improve, or at least restore, their incomes and livelihoods. Tentative implementation schedule is provided in Table 9 which is subject to modification.

ASSAM POWER SECTOR INVESTMENT PROGRAM-TRANCHE 3-LOWER KOPILI HYDRO ELECTRIC PROJECT

Assam Power Generation Corporation Ltd (APGCL)

Terms of Reference Resettlement
Plan Implementing Support NGO
Longku- Dima Hasao and Karbi Anglong

I.

A. Overview

1. The Assam Power Sector Investment Program (the Investment Program) is intended to finance a series of investments in the state of Assam, India including generation capacity enhancement to transmission and distribution infrastructure development. The Investment Program will also finance a number of “softer” activities, including improvements of power utility companies in operational and financial capacity, and training. The funding will be extended via a multitranche financing facility (MFF) of Asian Development Bank (ADB). The objectives of the investment will be to achieve increased adequacy and efficiency of power system, including renewable energy in Assam.

2. Providing reliable, adequate, and affordable electricity remains a major challenge. This can be achieved only by expanding the state’s own generation portfolio, improving the efficiency of existing generation plants reducing the transmission and distribution losses, and improving the institutional capacities. The government has prepared a transmission and distribution investment plan for the 12th Five-Year Plan (FYP) for 2012–2017. The government’s power sector roadmap also aims to achieve 100% village electrification by the end of 12th FYP, and attend 100% system access by 2020. ADB’s India Country Partnership Strategy (CPS) for 2013–2017 continues with the same approach. First, by strengthening transmission and distribution networks to reduce technical and commercial losses and improve the financial health of state utilities; and second, by focusing on capacity issues. The new investment Program is consistent with government’s policies and strategies. It is also consistent with ADB’s ongoing CPS. Additionally, sustained partnerships between ADB and Assam Utilities will help sector reforms to be on track.

3. The activities under tranche 2 will finance the construction of a 120 MW hydro power plant including all associated transmission lines.

B. Lower Kopili Hydroelectric Project

4. The concept of the Kopili River Valley development goes back to the 1980s. Various agencies including the Assam State Electricity Board (ASEB), the North Eastern Electric Power Corporation Limited (NEEPCO), and APGCL have contributed to the development of the project plan. ASEB conducted an initial investigation on the suitability of constructing a hydroelectric project on the Lower Kopili river, and prepared a preliminary project plan. In 1996, the Government of Assam (GoA) handed over the project development to the NEEPCO. It prepared a detailed project report (DPR) revising the previous reports, and obtained clearances from various directorates of the Central Electricity Authority (CEA) and the Central Water Commission (CWC) for several project Components. The GoA in 2006 appointed APGCL to finalize the project plan and to implement it.

5. The Kopili River is a south bank tributary of the Brahmaputra River. It originates in the Meghalaya State's Borail Hill range and drains an area of about 16,421 sq km. Its basin is bound by the Jaintia Hills in the West and South Cachar and Mikir Hills in the East. The catchment of the Kopili River lies on the leeward side of the Borail, Khasi and Jaintia Hills range of the Meghalaya state. The river basin receives a good amount of rainfall which keeps it as a perennial river. The river basin comprises denuded hills, low mounds and narrow valleys that generally slope towards northeast. The highest elevation is 356 m just beyond the southern boundary of the proposed reservoir of LKHP. Slopes are gentle and mostly covered with bushes and trees. The soil is cohesive and sporadic rock exposures occur on the banks of the Kopili River and its natural canals.

6. Lower Kopili Hydro Electric Project is one of the proposed multistage development programs on the Kopili River valley. The river already has two hydro electric power projects upstream of the proposed LKHP site, Khandong 75 MW HEP served by the Khandong Reservoir and Kopili 200 MW HEP served by the Umrong Reservoir. The proposed LKHP will generate 110 MW power. It is designed as a storage reservoir scheme. The project is located in the Karbi Anglong and Dima Hasao autonomous districts.

7. The water sources of the proposed Lower Kopili Hydro electric project are (a) tailrace releases from the Kopili Power station at Umrong, (b) inflow from intermediate catchment between Khandong and Longku dam sites; and (c) the spill from the Khandong and Umrong Reservoirs. However, the operation of the proposed LKHP will be independent of the operations of the Khandong and Kopili power stations.

8. The dam of LKHP will be constructed in the vicinity of the Longku village in Karbi Anglong autonomous district. The dam will form a reservoir with a gross storage of 106.29 MCM. The concrete gravity dam will be 70.13 m tall and 345.05 m long. The Full Water Supply Level (FSL) of the reservoir will be 229.60 m and the minimum draw down level will be 226.00 m. The other project infrastructure components are the intake structure 35 m upstream of the Lower Kopili dam; headrace tunnel of 7.25 m diameter and 3603 m long, surge shaft with a diameter 25 m and at a height of 82.90 m; pressure shaft of 5.2 m internal diameter and concrete backfill for a length of 703 m; valve house, a surface powerhouse; tail race channel of 52 m length and 26.3 m width; auxiliary powerhouse; tail race channel of 52 m length and 26.3 m width; auxiliary powerhouse at the dam-toe embedded into the body of the dam.

9. Socioeconomic Impacts. Civil works to be undertaken for construction of the lower Kopili Hydro Electric Project entail acquisition of land belonging both to government and private owners and thereby having an impact on Involuntary Resettlement. As per ADBs requirement and policy of the Government of India, a combined Resettlement and an Indigenous Peoples Plan (IPP) has been prepared for the Lower Kopili Hydro Electric Project for rehabilitating the affected people. Land requirement under the various components are:

Project Component	Area (ha)
